Canal Stop Threat Heeded By County

Route Still Questioned By Factions

Marin County supervisors staved off a stop-work order on the Saucelito Canal project yesterday by notifying the Army Corps of Engineers that procedure to acquire right-of-way will start next year.

Supervisors also asked the corps to revise its plans for dredging to conform with the new canal alignment approved by the board.

The corps previously had warned that a stop-work order would be issued if the board did not submit a report on the project's status by Nov. 15.

ATTORNEY VIEW

Atty. S. J. Hugh Allen, representing George Leo Zaro, a property owner in the area, urged reversal of the decision on alignment. The proposed channel should be moved off private property and back into the publicly owned Saucelito Canal, he said.

"Retention of the present and confused status quo would beyond question cost the county and its taxpayers dearly," Allen contended.

The Corps of Engineers project and the State Small Craft Harbor Commission's Mill Valley project are "on the brink of termination if immediate curative action is not taken," Allen said. Also threatened is the Small Craft Harbor Commission's $300,000 priority allocation for county participation, he said.

PROPERTY RIGHT

The county cannot condemn property to acquire the rights of way because it does not have the funds, he continued.

Attorney Albert Bianchi, representing owners of underwater lots in the area, suggested the county counsel be authorized to institute action to acquire the lands so the value could be established.

Attorney Clark Maser, representing the Bothin Estate, which has plans for devolpment west of the Richardson Bay Bridge, urged supervisors to proceed with the publicly owned channel.

"We have plans and we need a channel," Maser said. "It will require a lengthy period to draw new plans."

The board also received a report from County Administrator Alan Bruce on a proposed program to get about $1,300,000 for land acquisition in the Richardson Bay Development project.

Supervisors agreed to postpone discussion on Bruce's proposals until next Tuesday, when vacationing Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who represents the area, is expected to be present, and Supervisor William D. Fusselman, who is in the hospital, may return.

Allen filed a letter of protest which will be read at next Tuesday's meeting.

Outdoor Veterans Day Observance Canceled

The indoor observance, the annual high school oratorical contest, started at 10:30 a.m. in the supervisors chambers and was still underway at noon.

Belvedere Thief Grabs Rare Coin

Burglars jimmied open the door of a Belvedere home, probably Sunday night, and took $36,035 worth of jewelry, a rare gold piece, and stock certificates.

Neighbors of the vacationing E. Coleman Dick family, 12 Eucalyptus Drive, discovered Monday that a door to the home had been opened and called police. Mr. and Mrs. Dick drove through snow storms to return home from Nevada about noon yesterday and identify their losses.

Belvedere Police Chief William L. Woodington said it is unknown whether the burglary is related to one in Tiburon, where burglars some time last week took $1,300 worth of jewelry from the home of J. W. Royer, 49 Lyford Drive.

Most valuable item stolen from the Dick home was a U.S. $20 gold piece. It was designed by sculptor Augustus Saint-Gaudens and a few experimental pieces were struck in 1907 as design changes were being made. It apparently never was minted in large numbers or formally put in circulation. The gold piece is valued by coin collectors at $18,500.

Other items taken included four shares of stock valued at $1,720; a pearl necklace with diamond and platinum clasp valued at $5,000; diamond and pearl earrings, $2,200; white gold bracelet with diamonds, $1,100; other rings, bracelets, brooches and a cigarette case.

SYNANON STANDS PAT: NO PERMIT

Foundation Sponsor's Statement To Supervisors Disavowed As Not Official

By RICHARD LYTTLE

This information, given the Independent-Journal today by Jack Hurst, a Synanon director, was contrary to a statement made to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday by Hal Fenton, Marin chairman of the Sponsors of Synanon.

Fenton's statement yesterday persuaded supervisors to delay until next week filing of an injunction seeking abatement of the Tomales facility.

"Hal Fenton does not speak for Synanon," Hurst declared today. "We will have to disavow what he said. He was just speaking as a private citizen yesterday."

Fenton also confirmed today that the application for a use permit would not be filed. He said he talked to Synanon attorney Daniel L. Garrett Jr. of San Francisco after yesterday's meeting of the board of supervisors and was told that Synanon did not intend to request a permit.

"There is no category that we would come under in such an application," Fenton said.

Hurst said he hoped to have more to say on the matter later in the week, possibly Friday or Saturday.

Woman Driver Plows Into Novato House—Foot Froze

A Novato woman driver escaped with minor injury when her car left the road as she made a U-turn at 4:58 p.m. yesterday and plowed into a house.

Damage to the unoccupied half of a duplex owned by Joseph Alumbaugh at 2 Kathy Court was estimated by his wife at $1,000. The runaway car knocked down two newly-planted shrubs and smashed an 18-inch hole into the stucco side of of the attached garage. Alumbaugh lives in the other half of the duplex.

The driver, Dilafaruz Miller of 598 Craig Court, Novato, told police her foot "froze" on the gas pedal as she was making a U-turn on San Jose Boulevard at Kathy Court. She said she would see her own doctor for treatment of minor injuries.

Russ, Chinese Agree On Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union and Communist China have agreed to hold peace talks in Peking early next year in a bid to restore at least surface unity to the Communist world, authoritative sources said today.

The reported decision was reached in Kremlin negotiations between Soviet Communist Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and visiting Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

The sources said the two leaders also agreed to postpone until late January o. February a scheduled Moscow meeting of 26 world Communist parties.

Sausalito Sets Towaway Charges

Towaway charges for cars parked in fire safety turnouts were set last night by the Sausalito City Council.

Such zones, to keep roadways clear for passage of fire vehicles, were established in March of 1961.

Fees, after an officer orders removal of a car from a towaway zone, are $7.50 between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m.; $12 between 6 p.m. and midnight and $15 between midnight and 8 a.m. This fee is for 24 hours storage. Additional storage fees are $1.50 per day for outside storage and $2 per day, indoor storage.

U.S. Honors Living, Dead War Veterans

Wreath Placed At The Tomb Of Unknowns

ARLINGTON, Va. (UPI) —America honored today the 31 million military veterans, living and dead, who have waged its wars and protected its peace.

As personal representative of President Lyndon B. Johnson, who was at his ranch in Texas, Veterans Administrator John S. Gleason Jr. placed a wreath at the Tomb of thet Unknowns in solemn ceremonies at Arlington National Cemetery.

At 11 a.m. (EST) a minute of silence was observed in memory of the armistice that ended World War I on Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. 46 years ago.

TRIBUTE GIVEN

Similar Veterans Day observances were held in the 50 states and at 23 overseas cemeteries where 140,000 U.S. soldiers and the names of another 90,000 missing in action are inscribed.

"Through their courage, dedication and sacrifice we have preserved our freedom and defended our heritage," Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said in a tribute to veterans. "They deserve the gratitude of all Americans."

He called on the millions now serving actively in the national defense "to renew their own determination to preserve the blessings for which our veterans fought."

'DEVOUT HOPE'

In a program at the Memorial Amphitheater at Arlington, after the presidential wreath was laid at the Tomb of the Unknowns of the world wars and Korea, Gleason expressed Johnson's "devout hope" that Americans would work for a nation "completely committed to a world at peace." They must build the "strength to assure that this commitment is translated from desire to deed."

A year ago at the traditional Veterans Day ceremonies in the nation's most hallowed cemetery, President John F. Kennedy placed a presidential wreath at the tomb — "little knowing," Gleason said, "that he himself in exactly two weeks would, like them, rest forever here."

Crab Fishermen Get First Catch -In Port Today

First crabs of the season were caught yesterday out of Point Reyes, but Point Reyes fishermen, as well as Sausalito crabbers, were in port today because of heavy seas.

V. J. Mendenhall, manager of A. Paladini Inc., which receives and ships crabs, said 12 to 15 boats went out in stormy seas yesterday. He estimated their total catch at 3,000 pounds.

"Catches were very poor," he said, "the worst its ever been. It's not the size which is about normal but the amount."

All of the Point Reyes crabs were shipped to San Francisco markets where the price is 90 cents alive, $1 per pound cooked. Price to fishermen is 37 cents a pound. "The price is going to jump," said Mendenhall.

Vietnam Reds Fire On Mercy Copters

DAN NANG, Vietnam (UPI) — Communiist guerrillas shot up two U.S. mercy helicopters in South Vietnam today. They fired on dozens of others flying to the rescue of victims of floods that have drowned an estimated 1,200 persons and left about one million homeless.

While the helicopters braved Red fire, a U.S. military spokesman in Saigon reported that more American casualties were suffered last week than in any previous seven days of war. Five were killed and 75 wounded during the week.

Snow Blankets Sierra; Marin Due More Rain

Mud Slide Invades San Anselmo Home

Marin County was digging its way out of storm damage again today as weather forecasters predicted more rain for tonight and tomorrow.

In the High Sierra a raging storm piled snow up to 40 inches deep. Rain blanketed the rest of northern California. Winds up to 30 miles an hours covered the major trans-Sierra highways with snow and motorists were warned that chains were necessary on all routes.

In San Anselmo the digging out of the storm damage was literal as city street crews struggled into this morning with mud from slides throughout the city.

At the worst slide, from the Indian Rock subdivision above The Alameda, the fire department was called in with its portable pump to clear the home of William V. Cox, 75 The Alameda, inundated by a foot of mud and water. Other homes along the street were also digging out.

The fire department also spent an hour and one-half yesterday hosing down buildings splashed by mud on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Bella Vista Avenue. This slide came from a subdivision on Red Hill.

The portable pump was called on also to the J. W. M. Schorer home at 64 Legend Road in Sleepy Hollow, for a half hour's pumping of mud from a slide above the home.

'Death Trap' Corner To Get 15-MPH Signs

Second and South streets in Sausalito, a corner described by a nearby resident as a "death trap," will be posted with 15-mile-per-hour signs painted on the street and a warning sign on Second Street to alert drivers to the curve.

The Sausalito City Council ordered the posting last night on recommendation of Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck and Norman Wohlschlaeger, superintendent of public works.

Bay Study Head Backs Super-Agency

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO—State Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, chairman of the San Francisco Bay Conservation Study Commission, let it be known yesterday that he fully endorses a super-agency to control filling of the bay.

McAteer, speaking in response to a plan presented by John H. Sutter of Oakland, chairman of Citiens for Regional Recreation and Parks, said such an agency could both plan the use of the bay and enforce the plan.

A study of uses and a development of a plan "are essential to regulate conservation and development of the area's greatest resourse," the senator said.

"There has to be an agency sitting on the top of the provincialism of the nine Bay Area counties," McAteer said.

Mill Valley Fights Annexation Block

City of Mill Valley yesterday asked Marin Superior Court to retract a stay of proceedings on an injunction sought to prevent the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission from acting on the city's request to annex 137 lowland acres.

Hearing on the motion is scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said the motion is to allow the commission to make its decision so that "proceedings may be properly instituted as an uninhabited territory annexation."

The stay was won Nov. 2 by George Leo Zaro who owns about 42 acres within the proposed annexation, and Alcan-Marin Ltd., developers of Zaro's acreage. Jordan claimed they intend to use the interim period to get residents into the area so it will not qualify as uninhabited land.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner, who granted the stay of proceedings, had scheduled 2 p.m. on Dec. 7 for Mill Valley to show cause why an injunction should not be granted.

The proposed annexation includes Tamalpais High School property and extends to the business area along Highway 101 frontage road at Alto.

COLLEGE MONEY WOES

Trustees Struggle Under Weight Of Construction

(First of Three Articles)
By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Officials of Marin Junior College District knew they were in trouble only months after voters in 1962 approved a 10-year, 35-cent special tax for a pay-as-you-go development of district educational facilities.

The unexpectedly high bid for construction of the new physical education complex on the Kentfield campus, and the high price paid for land for a North Marin campus were the first indications to watchful outsiders.

By now, district officials, trustees, architects and citizens who worked on the original master plan have all agreed that the pay-as-you-go development program is not panning out.

The project, if present trends hold up, will cost at least twice the 11 million dollars contemplated. Income has been above expectations, but so has enrollment. Unless there is manna from heaven, Washington or Sacramento, revenue from the 35-cent tax will not do the job.

The tax was decided upon, along with the 10-year develop-

Grenade Explodes In School Yard

HANAU, Germany (UPI)—A hand grenade found by an 11-year-old-boy and brought into a school yard exploded today in the midst of a crowd of curious children. At least 34 of the pupils were injured.

Rudolph

Eight were hurt seriously.

The blast tore the arm off an 8-year-old-boy. It also ripped away the hand of a girl, mangled the leg of another, and damaged the eyes of a third.

The boy, Rudolph Pospiech, who lost a hand and an eye, found the grenade in the woods near a U.S. Army installation on his way to Tuempelgarten Elementary School. He took out the pin and dropped the grenade just as the 450 pupils were lined up in pairs to return to class after their morning recess.

News Of South Called Slanted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Alabama's top state policeman charged yesterday the nation's news media created an emotional atmosphere in Congress which led to the passage of the civil rights law.

Col. Albert J. Lingo, Alabama's public safety director, said that newspapers, magazines and broadcasters generally slant news stories to promote the liberal-socialist cause.

Lingo said the civil rights law received the praise of Communists as paving the way for a "Soviet America."

"The South has been the last ditch of local government and states rights," Lingo said in a speech to a businessmen's meeting. But he said the news media has made the rest of the nation believe "the people of the South are invariably motivated by hate, prejudice and bigotry."

Long Seeks Senate Demo Post

Long

This is the post now held by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, vice president-elect. It will be filled by vote of the 68 Democratic senators meeting in caucus.

Long claims to have commitments of more than 35 senators that they will support him for the post. The Louisiana senator said he will win on the second or third ballot in the caucus "provided President Johnson does not enter the situation."

Long said that as of the moment the president has not expressed a preference and "I do not believe he will."

Jenkins Released From Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Jenkins, former chief aide to President Lyndon B. Johnson, has been released from George Washington University hospital, a hospital spokesman said last night.

Jenkins was admitted to the hospital Oct. 14 with what his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson, described as "insomnia, tensions and agitation."

It became known that day that Jenkins had been arrested twice on morals charges, in 1959 and on last Oct. 7. Tht president requested and received the resignation of his assistant of 25 years.

Chief Mouseketeer Dies At 54

HONOLULU (UPI)—Jimmie Dodd, the guitar-strumming ex-chief Mouseketeer of Walt Disney's Mickey Mouse television show, died in Honolulu yesterday after an illness of nearly two months.

Dodd

Dodd was 54, still had the remarkably youthful appearance that made him a part of the program for seven years.

The entertainer and song writer had a record of heart trouble and survived a serious illness in 1951. He was hospitalized Aug. 24, two days after he arrived to start a television show. He was reported suffering from complete exhaustion.

The Honolulu coroner's office said it was believed that Dodd died of a respiratory ailment, but said an autopsy would be conducted.

Dodd was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 28, 1910, and got his first job as a guitar player and singer with a radio station in St. Petersburg, Fla., before moving to Hollywood.

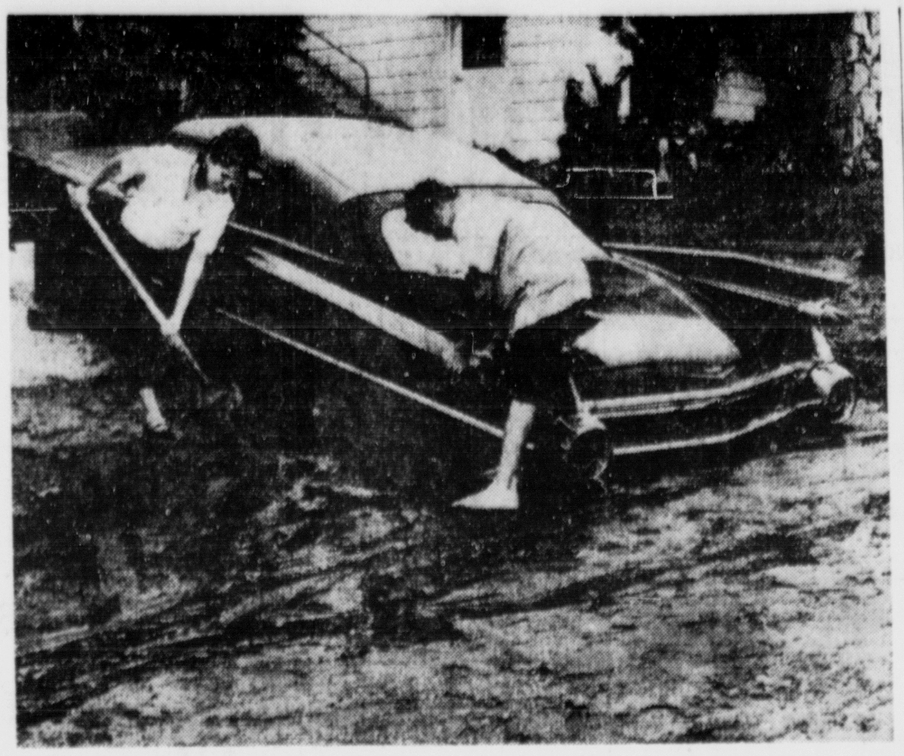
Sub Trouble Mounts

TOKYO (UPI) — Leftist demonstrators protesting the impending arrival of an American nuclear-powered submarine in southern Japan clashed with police today near the Parliament building. More than 10 policemen were reported injured. About 10,000 demonstrators had rallied at Hibaya Park, near the Imperial Palace, then marched on Parliament, scuffling with officers who attempted to turn them back.

U.S. Suspends Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has suspended a large portion of its aid to Bolivia in the wake of the military's overthrow last week of the South American nation's government.

An average of 69,700 public school classrooms have been built ever year since 1958, the U.S. Office of Education reports.



MUDSLIDES PLAGUE FIRE AREAS

Cynthia and Lois Serde dig out the family car yesterday, from mud that swept down their residential Glendale street after the end of heavy rains that broke the southern California drought. Throughout Los Angeles and Santa Barbara areas denuded by brush fires during the summer, the rain sent waves of mud surging down against houses. Mrs. Aimee Miller, 47, wife of Frank Sinatra's accompianist, was killed in one such slide. (AP Wirephoto)

Proposition's Impact On Funds Debated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the California Real Estate Assn. says the fear that Proposition 14 could cost California more than 200 million dollars in federal housing aid is a misunderstanding.

But, everyone else—including the Housing and Home Finance Agency in Washington — today appeared puzzled and cautious about the legal complexity of the new initiative.

BANS BIAS BANS

Proposition 14, approved Nov. 3 by voters 4,147,000 to 2,133,000, makes it unconstitutional to pass a law forbidding racial discrimination in home sales or rentals.

Art S. Leitch, CREA president, said the amendment to California's state constitution does not interfere with the right of the state or federal government to enforce contracts made with private parties.

The cloud of doubt hovering over Proposition 14 darkened yesterday when the HHFA called a temporary halt to the approval of further financing for urban renewal projects in California.

The ban, ordered because of the unclear legal situation surrounding the initiative, affects about 58 million dollars in financing on five projects for which bids were to have been opened Tuesday, the HHFA announcement said.

BROWN'S STAND

Latest figures showed a total of $216,683,000 in federal urban redevelopment aid to California projects that could be lost if the initiative is declared constitutional.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who had opposed the initiative, said Tuesday that he still feels it is unlawful.

"It appears," Brown said, "to be a fact that a majority of the white citizens in this state just don't want Negroes living in the same neighborhood."

Collective Leadership Urged To Heal GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party's self-analysis continued today with twin calls for a sort of "collective leadership" group to guide GOP fortunes.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin and Gov. Robert E. Smylie of Idaho advanced the idea of a temporary party agency while Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania urged an immediate and independent audit of the national committee's campaign treasury.

The description "collective leadership" was provided by Laird, a prominent House Republican who was chairman of the platform committee at the party's national convention. He said a broad-based group is needed "to fill the vacuum of leadership" and to work toward "rebuilding of the party."

"This is no time to hunt for scapegoats, no time to indulge in intraparty bickering, no time to pursue personal ambition," he said in a statement. "Above all this is no time for anybody to read anybody else out of the Republican party."

Laid said the leadership group should include:

"Representatives of the Republican members of the Congress, Republican governors, other Republican officeholders at the state and local level, Republican National Committee members, Republican state and county chairmen, as well as Republicans from private life in various fields of endeavor."

Scott, citing reports that the party may end up with a national campaign surplus of 1.2 million dollars, said such a treasury would be "intended to keep the radical right in control of the Republican party."

In Washington, a spokesman for the Republican congressional campaign committee said the national committee had told him there is no truth to reports of such a surplus.

"Believe me, if they had that much money at the national committee we'd be down there tomorrow morning," the spokesman said.

Fluoride Tooth Paste Tests Lessen Decay, Dentists Told

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A U.S. Public Health Service official today reported for the first time that brushing with a stannous fluoride dentrifice reduced tooth decay in school children.

Dr. Herschel S. Horowitz, Washington, D.C., told the 105th annual session of the American Dental Assn. that the school-based toothbrushing project comparing use of a stannous fluoride-calcium pyrophosphate dentrifice with a placebo paste in a non-fluoride community revealed "reductions in the 17 per cent range" after three years.

The study was conducted in 10 public schools in Seattle, Wash.

Sausalito City Aides May Gain Holidays

Sausalito police and firemen may receive four more holidays per year, now received by other city employees.

The recommendation was discussed last night by city councilmen as they went over a proposed revised civil service ordinance and rules with Bruce F. Austin of the State Cooperative Personnel Service and James B. Leech, attorney for the Sausalito Employees Assn.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown recommended that police and firemen receive Washington's birthday, Independence Day, Veterans and Labor Day in addition to New Year's, Memorial Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The proposed ordinance draft, by the state personnel board, was referred to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan. He was asked to check the necessity of hearing of discharges by the Sausalito board of review, which would be abolished by the ordinance.

Robert M. Gunn, chairman of the board of review, said he saw no necessity for a hearing before his board and, in fact, would be happy to bring the council resignations of its members.

Austin, describing the ordinance as simple and flexible, said suggestions made by Leech, Brown, City Councilman Earl F. Dunphy and department heads were incorporated in it.

The ordinance gives the city manager authority to hear appeals of employees and make final personnel decisions, then reporting his decisions to the council; it empowers the city manager to suspend an employee for five working days without right of appeal, and takes away from the department head the right to suspend an employee.

Leech said he would like to see department heads have all the authority they need to conduct their department.

Austin recommended that department heads not be granted civil service status because the exemption is inherent in council-manager form of government and virtually all major civil service systems use the practice.

Chamber Honors Postal Official

The group presented her a French porcelain tea set in honor of her 27 years as postmaster, B. J. Talbot, chamber vice president, reported.

New Trustees To Be Sworn

Trustees of the New Novato Unified School District will be sworn into office by County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis at the present Novato school district office Nov. 21 at 9 a.m.

Hollis said the new board will elect officers and select a temporary location for its headquarters.

The new board will make plans for the 1965-66 school year and will take over operation of the schools at the end of the current school year. The existing boards in the Novato Unified and San Jose school districts will continue in operation until next July.

Fairs Tribute Set For 2 Marinites

Two Marin County residents who have served on the Sonoma-Marin District Fair Board for 27 years will be honored at a State Fair and Exposition Conference at Disneyland Tuesday.

Receiving the 27-year awards will be William A. Gnoss of Novato, chairman of the county board of supervisors, and Alfred J. Bianchi, Point Reyes rancher.

STORM

was taken off the Tiburon tidelands where it beached early yesterday with four other boats when they broke loose from Sausalito's Napa Street Pier and drifted across Richardson Bay at the height of the storm. The dredge and the Annie G. were reported undamaged by the unscheduled voyage.

In Ross, where a huge elm tree smashed the porch of Mrs. Edward T. Roddy at 44 Shady Lane, beleaguered work crews had sawed the Roddys a way out of their home, but had not moved the bulk of the tree, with a 6-foot diameter at the base.

The Weather Bureau predicted intermittent rain tonight, partly cloudy skies and showers tomorrow. Small craft warnings were out for winds of 20 to 35 miles an hour tonight.

Respite from the storm was only partial, as a slow drizzle continued through last night, adding about a quarter inch to the storm total.

At 8 a.m. the 24-hour total and the storm totals to date included: Ross, .34 and 3.74, San Anselmo, .22 and 3.50, Fairfax, .24 and 3.69, Woodacre, .12 and 3.52, Point Reys Station, .16 and 3.30, Novato, .25 and 3.40, Chevy Chase (Larkspur), .24 and 2.49.

The 24-hour total at 8 a.m. in Mill Valley was .28, Belvedere, .24, Sausalito, .30, and Tamalpais Valley, .36.

The noon reading in San Rafael for the 24 hours was .41, bring the storm total to 3.38.

The California Highway Patrol reported one traffic fatality, on Interstate Highway 80, south of Auburn. The CHP said it was still snowing early this morning on highway passes through the Sierra and the Siskiyou mountains.

All passes remained open, however, CHP said. Donner Summit on Interstate 80 was closed for four hours yesterday morning.

Freezing temperatures were reported overnight at the 2,600-foot level. Blue Canyon, at an elevation of 5,200 feet on Highway 40, recorded 27 degrees at midnight, the Weather Bureau said.

Fifth Graders Set 'Macbeth' Showing

Fifth graders at Larkspur-Corte Madera School will present Shakespeare's "Macbeth" in a special showing for parents at 1 p.m. tomorrow and Friday at the school.

The title role will be played by Richard Slusher, with Barbara Lee Hughes and Marsha Boerke alternating as Lady Macbeth. Dan Young will be Macduff; Harry Harris, Banquo; Tom McClendon, King Duncan, and Janet Mouthrop, Debbie Robinson, Dana Hooper, Linda Daum, Betsy McCormick and Roberta Dolman will be the witches.

Dixie Meeting Set

The Dixie School District board will discuss policy at a meeting at 8 p.m. today at the district office, 35 Trellis Drive, Supt. Dennie B. Willis reported.

Building Aide Post Created For Hub City

The new post of chief building inspector was created in San Anselmo last night, but the change means no additional salary cost and no additional personnel, Administrator Douglas J. Flautt emphasized.

Public Works Director Richard A. Sypher now has an assistant engineer and an engineering aide.

The engineering aide, Robert Bolick, resigned to take another post in the Novato Sanitary District. In filling the vacancy, Administrator Flautt recommended that a new man be hired as "chief building and zoning inspector," at the same salary.

After considerable discussion on the need for the new title, city councilmen agreed to create the job.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Contracted with Sohner Tree Service for annual weed control in the city for $1,048.

2. Granted John J. Mikolan six months time to abate a three-story redwood building at 26 Sais Avenue, which has been condemned as unsafe.

3. Refused to grant Teressa Massavelli of 21 Lincoln Avenue permission to convert her home to a duplex so her daughter and son-in-law may live there. The planning commission had denied the request, and she appealed to the council. Mayor William Franchini and John M. Reichmuth voted to uphold the planning commission, and Arthur W. Smith and Cedric Clute voted for the duplex. Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro abstained because he lives next door. The 2-2 deadlock meant that the appeal failed.

4. Hired Ernest Eddings of 38 Eddings of 38 Meadow Drive, San Rafael, to fill a vacancy on the police department. Starting pay is $505. He was second on the eligibility list. Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said Eddings was chosen because he has worked steadily as a reserve officer for the past three months.

5. Approved an expenditure of about $2,000 to install rip-rap to shore up the wing walls of the new bridge over Tunstead Avenue.

6. Approved a stop sign on Cedar Avenue at Tamalpais Avenue.

Crash On Bridge Injures Motorist

Merlin C. Roberts, 53, of 37 La Brea Way, Santa Venetia, was treated for chest pains at Marin General Hospital after his car was involved in a sideswipe collision at the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge at 12:40 p.m. yesterday.

Driver of the other car was William C. Hudson, 20, of 15 Agatha Court, San Anselmo, headed south as Roberts was headed north, the California Highway Patrol reported. Hudson's car skidded across the divider area, knocking over rubber posts, at the curve at the end of the bridge. After hitting Roberts' car, it bounced back across the bridge, stopping in the slow southbound lane.

NOVATO TIES SEWERS TO CITY LIMITS

The Novato City Council would like to have the city's boundaries conform with those of Novato Sanitary District.

The council last night voted to ask directors of the sanitary district to refuse new annexations unless the same property is annexed to the city. It promised to do likewise.

East-West Highway Discussed

Three possible routes for the east-west highway, connecting Highway 101 with Olema and Point Reyes, were discussed yesterday noon by a San Rafael Chamber of Commerce committee.

The streets, highways and parking committee of the chamber, headed by Chairman Clifford S. Lund, met at the Red Kettle restaurant for luncheon.

Lund said no decision was reached, but the committee plans to meet again for luncheon on Nov. 24. At that time, each member of the 12-man committee will present arguments for or against these three possible routes:

1. A new offramp at Highway 101 tying into First Street in San Rafael, then along the Miracle Mile, through San Anselmo and Fairfax, with possible use of White's Hill tunnel.

2. From Freitas Parkway in Terra Linda, along the ridges, and out to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard behind Oak Manor west of Fairfax.

3. From Lucas Valley Road to San Geronimo Valley.

"Most of the committee members seemed to lean toward the route from San Rafael through San Anselmo," said Lund.

'City' Told Get Off High Horse

BERKELEY (UPI)—San Francisco ought to stop thinking that "The City" is the only worthwhile part of the Bay Area, a University of California professor declared yesterday.

"The East Bay is a metropolis in its own right, a fact that needs to be asserted forcefully," said Associate Prof. James E. Vance Jr.

He said the Oakland-Berkeley area "has suffered slight and derision it does not deserve."

Vance, a geography professor, made the statements in a University of California report which was part of a series of papers on the Bay Area.

West's Saw 'Too Noisy'

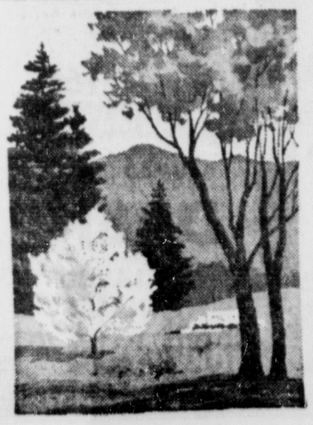
Sausalito sculptor Barney West's chain saw, used in the manufacture of tikis on Mono Street near the Northwestern Pacific Railroad track, is too noisy, the Sausalito City Council was told last night.

"We have a petition from 40 residents in the area of 100 block of Filbert Street and the same area on Bridgeway," said Mayor Jan Paul Dyk. "It pertains to the serious complaint of excessive noise caused by a gasoline powered saw being operated by Mr. West."

Dyk said the matter will be placed on next Tuesday's council agenda since it arrived too late for yesterday's. The city has an action pending against West, charging him with violating zoning regulations.

Driver Fined $166

James Albert Taylor, 49, of 36 Canyon Road, San Anselmo, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol July 21 on Highway 101.



Peace of Mind

Like many Marinites have done, you may wish to make pre-need arrangements at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery. Such a call brings peace of mind. It assures that your preferences will be respected and that you will be sparing others difficult decisions. Why not visit Mount Tamalpais Cemetery now?

SYNANON

from Dr. Carlos Fernandes of Richmond for $175,000. Former addicts arrived on the property later that month.

Marin County Planning Director D. B. Dobbs has repeatedly said that Synanon must have a use permit under the county's zoning ordinance if it is to operate the rehabilitation facility.

Officials of Synanon have repeatedly said they do not need such a permit.

The supervisors' action yesterday came at the request of property owner of the Marshall area, who argued that the use should not continue since it violates the zoning law.

Attorney Stanley Ware of San Francisco, representing the objectors, presented petitions signed by 31 property owners, asking the board to seek abatement of the use.

Synanon Founder Charles E. Dederich was still in New York today seeking funds for the development of the Tomales Bay and other Synanon facilities. He is expected in Marin later this week.

In New York, he announced that the Tomales facilities will eventually become a city of 5,000 where former addicts and criminals will be rehabilitated.

He said that Synanon can conduct its program for $3 per person a day while state and federal institutions spend $15 a day and do not do the job.

Terra Linda District To Share Cost

The Terra Linda Community Services District board agreed last night that the district would share costs of a Knocknaboul area annexation election with the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District.

No date has been set for the proposed annexation election, but it would not be until next year, according to Mrs. Cleo D. Murray, district secretary.

The board also received a report that the Terra Linda Firemen's Assn. has granted the Terra Linda Fire Department use of two walkie-talkie radios, purchased with proceeds from the Firemen's Ball in September.

Counselors, Parents Will Meet Nov. 19

College of Marin counselors and parents will meet at the Kentfield campus in Room G-3 at 7:45 p.m. Nov. 19 to discuss problems of college age students.

The Independent-Journal incorrectly reported yesterday that the meeting would be held tomorrow.

OBITUARIES

Gilbert Kilpatrick Succumbs

Petaluma dairy rancher Gilbert Kilpatrick, a former Marinite, died today in a Petaluma hospital after an illness of four weeks. He was 64.

A native of County Armagh, Ireland, he came to the United States 42 years ago, settling in Marin, but later moved to Petaluma. He had been a rancher there for 15 years.

Surviving are his wife, Annie Kilpatric of Petaluma; a son, James Kilpatrick of San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Sackett of Livermore; two sisters, Mrs. Ella Gass and Mrs. Lily McKinstry, both of Ireland, and two grandsons.

Funeral will be at 1 p.m. Friday at Parent Funeral Chapel, 216 Washington Street, Petaluma. Burial will be in Cypress Hill Memorial Park, Petaluma.

Tributes may be in the form of donations to the Novato Presbyterian Church.

MERVYA BLACK

Private funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Mervya R. Black, mother of Peter R. Black of Sausalito and widow of a leading San Francisco attorney.

Mrs. Black was found dead in her home at 1090 Chestnut Street, San Francisco, at 10 a.m. Monday. A prescription bottle containing barbiturate capsules was found beneath her in her bedroom.

Mrs. Black's husband, John H., died three years ago. He was considered San Francisco's leading authority on maritime law.

Besides her son Peter R., Mrs. Black is survived by three grandchildren. She was a native of California.

HERBERT FAIRE

Funeral for Herbert Faire, a retired machinist from Sausalito, will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. att he Frank J. Keaton Mortuary in Sausalito. He died Monday in a local hospital after a long illness.

Faire came to California from Washington 45 years ago and later started a tune-up garage in San Francisco. He moved to Sausalito 10 years ago and worked in a garage near Hamilton Air Force Base.

He is survived by his wife, Mabel; two sons, Austin and George, and a daughter, Mrs. Hope Eckard.

Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

ALBERT BRINGEL

Albert V. Bringel, 59, of 425 Locust Street, Sausalito, died yesterday at a local hospital, victim of a stroke.

Bringel, a native of San Francisco, had lived in California all his life and in Sausalito for 18 years.

He was a salesman for Hastings Men's Clothiers, San Francisco.

Surviving are his wife, Frances E. Bringel of Sausalito; two sons, Richard Bringel of the USS Pluck and Donald Bringel of Sausalito; two daughters, Mrs. Diana Petersen of Petaluma and Leslie Bringel of Sausalito.

Fair, Auditorium Board To Be Named

A nine-member fair and auditorium board is slated to be appointed to plan and oversee operations at the Marin County fairgrounds at the Civic Center.

County supervisors agreed yesterday that the new board be appointed to succeed the present fair board, which will continue to oversee the fair at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross until operations commence at the new site.

County Administraotr Alan Bruce recommended the new board include representatives of both "participant and spectator" interest, veterans, and a member of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The new board would oversee operation of the fair and also year-around activity, but the final authority would remain with the board of supervisors, Bruce said.

Bruce was asked to submit a more detailed recommendation within a month.

The Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Named Superevisor Byron W. Leydecker as the Marin County candidate to be placed before the North Coast Counties Supervisors Assn. for nomination as a director of the County Supervisors Assn. of California.

2. Approved standards for evaluation of formation and annexation proposals compiled by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

3. Approved a new procedure for handling appeals from personnel commission decisions, which will not require the board of supervisors to re-hear the entire case being appealed.

4. Received notice from the State Lands Commission that the county will be notified of any application to the commission for permission to extract minerals from county-owned tidelands.

5. Appointed Roy Milner as work training and employment coordinator, and Martha Schuelke as social worker, both in public social services department, and Alberta Schumacher as part-time branch library assistant, and Clair Marie Harris as library aide in the county library.

6. Approved procedures for developing a coordinated program for county proposals for the 1965 session of the state legislature.

7. Passed a resolution of intention to convey a portion of the Mar West right-of-way to the City of Belvedere now that construction of road realignment has been completed, as previously agreed with the city.

8. Agreed to readvertise for bids for repairs to the lift station in Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District No. 2, Tamalpais Valley, and open bids Dec. 1. No bid was received at the first bid opening Oct. 27.

9. Ruled that traffic on Las Gallinas Avenue, Marinwood, should stop at Elvia Court and that traffic on both Elvia Court and Pinewood Drive should stop before entering Las Gallinas Avenue, and authorized stop signs for these locations.

10. Approved hiring Moore and Taber of Sacramento, soils engineers, to make foundation investigation for replacement of the Meadow Way Bridge in San Geronimo, at a cost of not more than $1,500.

11. Requested the Public Utilities Commission to reimburse the county for half the cost of constructing protection at the crossing of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on North San Pedro Road.

12. Rejected the following claims for damages and injuries: Fred C. Mauroni of Terra Linda, $15,000; Brian L. Taylor of Novato, $150,000; Bradford M. Melvin II of San Francisco, $110,000, and John A. Buehler of San Rafael, $103,688.

13. Upheld planning commission denial of an application by Robert Cruickshank for an adjustment to allow two one-family residences at 31 Greenbrae Boardwalk.

14. Set for Dec. 1 hearing an appeal by John K. Hofer Jr. of planning commission denial of rezoning of property on Shoreline Highway, between Gibson Avenue and Almonte Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, from light industrial to commercial.

15. Approved payment of $669 to public works department employees for overtime during the rain storms last weekend.

The board adjourned until 9 a.m. Monday when it will discuss redistricting of supervisorial districts.

San Anselmo Rec Director Feud Settled

San Anselmo's long feud on how to select a fulltime city recreation director came to a sudden and amicable settlement last night.

Frank L. Quinn, who has been part-time recreation chief, will not apply for the director's job. In a letter to the city council, he agreed to settle for the title of director of athletics with part-time pay of $275 per month.

City fathers promptly appointed him to the post, effective Jan. 1.

"I always wanted Frank Quinn for the top job," said Councilman Arthur W. Smith. But in view of Quinn's letter, Smith went along with his colleagues in naming Quinn as athletic director.

Councilmen then adopted a resolution calling for recruitment of candidates for recreation director, with starting pay of $644 per month.

This sudden turn of events ended a long-standing feud. Councilmen and citizens had been lining up for and against Quinn for the top post since last spring when the parks and recreation commission urged hiring a fulltime director.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) plans to conduct its next series of sonic boom tests beginning Monday at the White Sands missile range in New Mexico.

San Anselmo Woman Injured In Crash

A San Anselmo woman was injured slightly Monday in a three-car accident at 7:30 a.m. on Highway 101 about a quarter mile north of the Alto overpass.

Arlene Carol Bouman, 29, of 312 San Francisco Boulevard, suffered a cut on her leg, but refused hospitalization. She was in the middle car of the end-on collision in the middle lane headed south. Driver of the front car was Heinz Wartenberger, 29, of 301 Chapman Drive, Corte Madera, and driving the rear car was Bart Petersen, 33, of 127 Sunnyside Avenue, San Anselmo. California Highway Patrol reported Wartenberger had stopped for a line of cars in traffic.

Private Teen Rec Club Is Proposed

A private recreation club for teen-agers, which developers hope will draw 900 youngsters nightly, is planned at 70 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, the city planning commission learned last night.

Commissioners scheduled a Nov. 24 public hearing on the application of ESM Enterprises for a use permit.

But the action brought a hot protest by Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson, who complained the city had little right even to consider turning down a use permit in the area, which is zoned for manufacturing.

Vote to set the hearing, which passed 6-1, was cast before anyone had explained anything about the plan.

One or two commissioners had first asked for a run-down, but chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. ruled it would be a waste of time, since it would all be explained at the forthcoming hearing.

After the vote, when Hendrickson began to explain his objections to the hearing, Robbins reversed his ruling and asked City Planner George H. Rodgers to explain.

Rodgers said the club would feature dancing and other forms of entertainment, with strict supervision.

"Some problems to be considered," Rodgers noted, "are traffic, parking, noise, policing and disturbance to the neighborhood."

Hendrickson said he felt it would be "extreme regulation of people's property rights" to consider denying the application.

Architectural approval was granted for plans of two major projects on Professional Center Parkway, but a third was tabled.

Approved were plans of Henry Albers for a 99-bed convalescent hospital on the parkway's north side and those of Joel E. Bowman for a 66-unit apartment complex at Channing Way. Albers also was granted a use permit for the hospital.

Another apartment project, a 40-unit one planned by Emil Damia on the south side of the parkway, was put over two weeks for solution of design, yard and landscape problems.

The San Rafael Planning Commission Also:

1. Approved the tentative map submitted by Marin Master Builders for a five-lot subdivision, Twelveoak Hill Unit Four, on an extension of Pine Hill Court. Owner is Mary Pimentel.

2. Voted 6-1, with Commissioner Pat Hetherton dissenting, to approve the bid of Earl L. Nelson to add a second-story bedroom on a house with substandard side yard at 40 Jewell Street.

3. Granted Theodore L. Althausen permission to build a detached two-car parking ramp at 84 Martens Boulevard with no setback. A 15-foot setback is usually required.

4. Granted Jerry Stone a two-year use permit for an antique shop in a home at 810 Fifth Avenue.

5. Re-issued an expired one-year use permit to Richard Stockton for an office at 1484 Lincoln Avenue, and put over until Nov. 24 his latest plan for a 10-unit apartment building at the same location.

6. Postponed to Nov. 24 the use permit and architectural approval applications of Horst Hanf for six offices at 37 Pacheco Avenue.

7. Turned down plans for a six-unit apartment building on Union Street between Jewell Street and Belle Avenue.

8. Put over to Nov. 24 approval of plans for a Mobil service station at the northeast corner of Francisco and Bellam boulevards.

9. Set hearings for Nov. 24 and Dec. 8 on the application of Paul Sade to rezone property on the north side of Bayo Vista Way from single family to garden apartment use.

Design Board Increase Urged

The Corte Madera Planning Commission Monday night recommended to the town council that the board of design be increased from three to five members.

The commission also decided that applications for design approval should be done by professional draftsmen or architects.

The contract with Livingstone and Blayney, town planning consultants, was approved and sent on to the council.

The commission approved plans by Wagstaff and McDonald for construction of a Speedy Mart grocery at Redwood and Corte Madera avenues.

Violin, Piano Artists Delight Dominican Series Audience

By MALBELLE SPECKMANN

The talented duo showed again why it is rated as one of the top sonata teams and among the best chamber music artists in the United States.

Frances Shorr produces a wonderfully clear and sweet tonal quality, and her husband has a remarkable command of all pianistic resources.

The Shorrs reversed the usual order of the concert, which often works up to present-day compositions, by opening with the powerfully percussive and dissonant "Sonata Concertante" in the contemporary idiom by Leon Kirchner. And instead of a brilliant finale, they concluded with the ingratiating Sonata in G Major K. 301 by Mozart, a work of light, airy grace.

For us the highlight of the program was the glorious music of Beethoven's Sonata in F Major, Opus 24. Stravinsky's "Duo Concertant" added what condiments do for a gourmet dish.

Though the concert has been described in glowing terms, we must add even higher praise because of an incredible circumstance. Lev Shorr is totally blind and learns his repertoire a bar at a time by listening to another pianist!

Only from his being led on and off the stage would one know it—never from his playing.

Treatment Ordered For Narcotics Case

Ronald Fulton Case, 26, who pleaded guilty to one count of forging and passing a prescription for narcotics, was sentenced in Marin Superior Court Monday to the California Department of Corrections for treatment as a narcotic addict.

Case, of 811 Spring Street, Sausalito, passed the prescription at Corte Madera Pharmacy, 18 Tamaplais Drive, on Sept. 19.

Art Critic Talk Friday

Alfred V. Frankenstein, San Francisco Chronicle art and music critic, will speak on "American Art and American Moods" at 8 p.m. Friday in Olney Hall at the College of Marin.

The lecture, illustrated with slides, was developed by Frankenstein as an introduction to American art for foreign audiences. He presented it last summer in the State Department-sponsored "American Houses" in Germany.

Frankenstein is also lecturer in American art at Mills College and University of California.

Reed Board Approves Classrooms

Reed School District trustees last night approved completion of Granada School by addition of another "cluster" providing space for four to six classes.

Construction will be aided by county and state funds. This will obligate the district to provide four classrooms for mentally retarded children — although not necessarily at Granada School.

Some of the 20 persons in the audience at Del Mar School asked questions about the program, but they expressed no opposition.

Under the plan, the district will back financing of a "cluster" of classrooms in the team-teaching school, an office-library building, and probably some type of multi-teaching school, an office-library building, and probably some type of multi-purpose room. It will pay only 10 per cent of the cost of another classroom cluster, with county and state funds making up the difference.

The district will assign, at its choice, four classrooms in any district school for classes run by the county for mentally retarded pupils.

Trustees looking at preliminary plans last night asked further study on whether a multi-purpose room is necessary, as the classroom clusters without interior walls can be used for large gatherings.

The Reed School District board also: Noted that state division of highways engineers had agreed to study moving future alignment of Tiburon Boulevard which would leave a larger area at the "swayback horse pasture," being considered for a school site.

Trustees approved, 4-1, a resolution advocating threre unified school districts in the area that now includes Tamalpais High School District and 11 elementary school districts. Trustee Marilyn C. Steinau voted "no."

Tanzania Fears Portugal Attack

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (UPI)—Tanzania has notified the Organization of African Unity that it has "concrete evidence" Portugal and certain Western powers plan to attack it.

Foreign Minister Oscar Kambona told a news conference yesterday he had alerted the organization's secretary-general, Diallo Telli, about "this intended aggression" by white mercenaries.

Police Corps Seeks Attacker

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police reinforcements, including women detectives, searched today for a sex sadist who assaulted seven women in as many weeks in a fearful Brooklyn neighborhood.

Authorities were certain the series of attacks, the latest Monday night, were committed by the same man. They looked for a slim, nattily dressed Negro with pencil-thin mustache.

At least 25 suspects were questioned yesterday as police sought to apprehend the rapist who has turned the Crown Heights area into a place of terror for the second time in several months.

Dear Customer:

This week I would like to tell you about our meat program. — Our program is coordinated between ourselves and two of the largest meat-packing companies in The United States. — From the finest grazing lands of Idaho and Utah. Our beef is selected for its vitality and conformation. At this point controlled formula feeding begins for proper fattening and flavor. To avoid damaging shipping defects our beef is processed at the feeding area. It is then shipped dressed in refrigerated trucks directly to our stores and our own meat processing plant in San Leandro. At this point our beef is aged, trimmed and displayed for your selection. — With all sincerity I make this statement. We could charge you more (we won't) but could not offer you a more tender or tastier beef. — Try some today at these extraordinary prices. Oh yes! You must be completely satisfied or your money back.

San Rafael Education Board Set To Try For Tidelands School Site

The San Rafael Board of Education, learning that 10 acres of tidelands in east San Rafael are available for a school site, decided last night to "wade in."

The land, which is inundated during high tides and heavy rains, is opposite the southwest corner of the San Rafael Cayes development. Owners Samuel W. Gardiner and Associates have offered it to the school district at $7,500 an acre. Supt. Bert C. Corona said it is behind a dike.

The board asked for a title search on the land and for two independent appraisals. The proposal that County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney proceed with purchase negotiations was held up when Board Member Walter J. Doll said he did not want to make such an order until after he had seen the appraisals.

The site, to be acquired as a long-range development project by the elementary school district, would be filled with earth when and if the entire area is developed. Purchase would be financed from $520,000 in bonds approved as part of a general bonding program for the district last spring.

Supt. Bert C. Corona said the land is one and one-half miles from the recently purchased five-acre site at Napa and Canal streets. It might be possible, Corona said, to trade the 10 acres for other land if the board later decides that the two sites are too close.

Board members wondered if such a provision could be made part of the purchase contract, but Corona said he did not think so.

Filling contract on the Canal and Napa streets site was awarded last night to United Sand and Gravel Co. of Sausalito for $41,440. The firm was the lower of two bidders. Meggiora, Ghilotti and Madsen of Corte Madera bid $42,306.

Business manager Charles L. Condrotte told the board that development of a green belt adjacent to the school is possible.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Learned that title on the E Street School property has finally been cleared. The action came in Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating's court Monday after three years of legal work.
2. Approved change orders that cut the cost of Sun Valley School addition by $9,875. The bid price of $123,000 was about $10,000 over the estimate. Additions include three classrooms and a library.
3. Learned from Corona that the district is still seeking sidewalks along three blocks of Lindaro Street for the safety of pupils from Laurel Dell Primary and Laurel Dell Intermediate Schools. Lawrence Marshall, president of the Laurel Dell Parent-Teacher Assn., said the city should be urged to change its ordinance to force property owners to install sidewalks.
4. Heard a report from Dr. William Jordan, assistant superintendent, on Science Research Associates reading materials now in use in some classrooms.
5. Continued consideration of a policy that would excuse some students from foreign language requirements. The conditions would cover students who have remedial reading problems, who are classified as mentally retarded, whose native tongue is in a foreign language, and who are enrolled in a private language course which meets school requirements.
6. Accepted with thanks a planter for the entrance to Davidson School, presented by the school P-TA.
7. Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Katherine Louis, teacher at Coleman School, effective Nov. 20. She is moving from Marin.
8. Adjourned until 7:30 p.m. Nov. 24, when it will meet in room 802 at Terra Linda High School.

Board member Bella H. Aaron was absent.

County Presented Tidelands Area

Eichler Homes Inc. yesterday gave Marin County 7.8 acres of tidelots and land for park and recreation use.

County supervisors accepted the grant deed to the property, which is near Eichler's Harbor Point residential development on the Tiburon Peninsula.

Fair Housing Group Plans To Expand

Chairman Julian Mack of Terra Linda declared:

"The passage of Proposition 14 shows the need for a vast educational program as well as new and imaginative attacks on segregated housing in Marin."

The housing referral service headed by Mrs. Ursula Gealey of Mill Valley will coordinate its activities with other Bay Area counties, with the Council for Civic Unity acting as temporary clearing house. It helps locate rental and purchase properties for citizens of minority races.

Mack announced that the Committee for Fair Play plans to launch an expanded membership drive.

Dr. Robert Gibson, vice president, was appointed chairman of the education program.

Strep Leads List Of Marin Diseases

Slightly more than one-half of the cases of communicable diseases reported in Marin County last week were streptococcic infections, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer, reported.

Of the 89 cases reported, 47 were streptococcic infections, 21 were cases of mumps, 14 of gonorrhea, six of measles, one of syphillis and one of shingella.

Sausalito Studies Plan To Repair Sea Wall

Sausalito city councilmen will meet at noon Saturday at the city hall, then visit the aging Bridgeway sea wall to decide whether to replace or repair the 2,000-foot barrier.

One improvement which probably will be made to the wall will be addition of a waist-high rail along the water's edge.

Need for this rail was emphasized last night when the council received a claim for $250,000 from Susan Jeanne Gray, whose father was drowned in a sports car which plunged over the sea wall last Feb. 2.

Miss Gray, a minor, says her father, Edwin Bernard Gray, 33, of San Francisco, was trapped in the vehicle after it left the road which "totally lacks guard rails or any other devices which would have prevented it from entering the water." Councilmen voted to deny the claim and refer it to the city's insurance carrier.

Four proposals on the sea wall were presented by City Engineer B. J. Whitlow. The most costly would add 14 feet to the roadway between Princess and Richardson streets and a solid sheet piling of steel or reinforced concrete, total cost being about $382,000.

Other plans would widen Bridgeway by 14 feet and relocate the sewer line for $330,000; widen Bridgeway six feet but not move the sewer, for $190,000, and repair or reconstruct the wall using reinforced concrete to make a wall to last 15 to 20 years for about $92,000.

Whitlow said he prefers an earlier plan, adding 34 feet to the street, to cost $331,000.

The city hopes to receive $76,000 in funds for the project from the Urban Renewal Agency and state gasoline tax funds.

The council commended Fire Chief Mathew J. Perry for his job of fire protection, acknowledging Perry's notice he will retire in February after 40 years service.

The Sausalito City Council also:

1. Accepted resignation of Mrs. Florette Pomeroy from the city planning commission, her reason being "work demands."
2. Awarded a contract to low bidder Cecotti and Son of Marin, Inc., Corte Madera, of $5,568 for sidewalk construction on Bridgeway between Nevada and Olive streets. Other bidders were Maggoria, Ghilotti and Madsen, Inc., $6,241, and A. J. Bresnan Co., $9,369. Fred Perry questioned why the work was not done at property owners' expense.
3. Agreed to approve planning commission recommendation to apply for $58,750 in "701" funds under urban planning assistance to update the master plan, prepare a general development plan for the waterfront, and plan a central park plaza and a major access plan for Rodeo Avenue.
4. Acknowledged completion of a city-built retaining wall on Spencer Avenue.
5. Authorized a two-year extension permitting Mrs. Helen Bromfield to keep her back porch kitchenette at 41 Cloud View Road which is, in part, illegally built over a neighbor's property.
6. Heard from Gabrielson that the community "responded beautifully" to provide funds to pay attorney Roger P. Garety for defense of three city councilmen in a suit brought by Sally Stanford (Mrs. Marsha Owen) last April in which the city was charged with misconduct by election precinct boards and other charges.

Smashup Kills Three On Bayshore

SUNNYVALE (AP)—Three persons were killed in a seven-car smashup on the Bayshore Freeway under the Mountain View-Alviso Road overpass near Sunnyvale shortly before last midnight.

El Camino Hospital in nearby Mountain View identified the dead as Karl S. Czorny, 43; his wife and the couple's 18-month old son, all of San Jose.

U.C. Students Given Support

BERKELEY (UPI) — Bolstered by support of 200 graduate teaching assistants, University of California students pressed today for freedom of political speech on campus.

Students are battling rules that prohibit on-campus solicitation of funds and members for off-campus political activities. Six weeks ago they staged a three-day demonstration that ended in a standoff, but protests resumed Monday with a rally of 1,500 students.

Yesterday, 500 gathered to hear that some 200 teaching assistants—one-fifth of the teaching assistant staff—had signed a protest petition.

Soldiers Bombed

ADEN (UPI)—Two British soldiers were seriously injured last night when someonet tossed a hand grenade at a bar frequented by British military personnel. It was the third grenade incident in the bar in eight weeks.

HE GUESSED WRONG ON ELECTION

Robert Hambly of 5 Inman Avenue, Kentfield, pays off an election bet made with his wife, Mickey. Hambly said Barry Goldwater would carry California; Mrs. Hambly thought otherwise. Loser, they agreed, would push a peanut from Laurel Grove Avenue to Broadway in Kentfield—an uphill block. Hambly paid off last evening. His wife didn't specify he had to push the peanut with his nose—the usual election wager penalty—because he has a stiff knee.

Supervisors Put Off Action On Protest Over Tam High

Marin County supervisors took no action yesterday on a protest from residents of the Homestead Boulevard area of Almonte that Tamalpais High School students are creating "intolerable conditions" in the neighborhood.

Supervisors agreed not to act on the protest petition signed by 32 residents until 3 p.m. next Tuesday, when vacationing Supervisor Peter H. Behr, whose district includes Almonte, is scheduled to be present.

Chairman William A. Gnoss said the county has some responsibility in the matter, particularly in the field of sanitation and police protection, but supervisors agreed that restricting of students to the campus during the school day, as requested by petitioners, was not in their jurisdiction.

Test Ban Hikes Nuclear Expense

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of the U.S. nuclear weapons program went up 15 per cent in the 1964 fiscal year, mainly because of safeguards required by the test ban treaty.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) reported last night that the cost of improving and producing nuclear weapons climbed to 805 million dollars in the 12 months ending last June 30.

The AEC report said the increase was mainly the "result of costs related to the safeguards commitments in connection with the test ban treaty."

Now In English

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigerians have been invited to enter a contest to translate their national anthem from English into nine tribal languages — Edo, Efik, Hausa, Ibo, Ijaw, Itsekiri, Urhobo, Western Ibo and Yoruba. Winning entries will get $140.

Cardinal Says Nuns Suffer From Mom-Ism

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Ecumenical Council heard charges today that an attitude of "mom-ism" too often pervades the attitude of women in religious orders toward their mother superiors.

Belgium's Leo Cardinal Suenens said there is no need for the Roman Catholic Church's 1.2 million nuns to be like little girls "who have to have a companion holding them by the hand every time they leave the house."

Speaking in debate on propositions for renovating the life of nuns, monks, friars and lay brothers, Cardinal Suenens told the assembled 2,200 bishops, cardinals, patriarchs and other high prelates in St. Peter's Basilica there is a need for a change.

In so far as the nunus are concerned, Cardinal Suenens warned against "the maternalism of mother superiors which results often in a passivity among religious women that approaches infantilism."

The propositions under discussion as Council Vatican II heads into its closing weeks range from reforms of antiquated religious habits and dress to a call for closing down monasteries and convents which no longer are vital.

Creek Park Funds Sought From State

About 50 members of the Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. voted unanimously last night to ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to allocate some state park bond money to development of Corte Madera Creek.

The group had supervisor-elect Ernest N. Kettenhofen as a guest, who said he wanted to learn the problems of the area so he would be able to "go full swing" when he enters office in January.

Larkspur Mayor Neil Brixon and City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper said a safety survey would be made in the Greenbrae area to determine the need for stop and yield signs on the steep streets.

The vote on park development came after association members were told that some of the state park bond money from Proposition 1, approved by the voters Nov. 3, would be allocated to counties for local projects.

The group asked that the funds be used for recreation facilities along the creek as proposed in the Kentfield master plan, with a pedestrian and bicycle trail from Ross to the Bay, and possibly a park and community center near the Bon Air bridge.

More than 24 million persons are admitted to hospitals in the United States each year, according to the Book of Knowledge.

PLANNERS DISAGREE

Split Votes Mark San Rafael Meet

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Last night was the night of the split vote at the San Rafael Planning Commission.

A third of the 18 items voted on were decided by 6-1 or 5-2 decisions. Practically everyone got into the dissenting act, but one of the most vocal in explaining his objections was Commissioner Carl S. Brown, who complained his colleagues were being inconsistent in their approach to several similar situations.

Brown voted against a motion by which the commission postponed action to Nov. 24 on the tentative map of 74-lot Terra Linda Unit 21 subdivision.

Commissioners told Alameda Homes Corp. and engineer Carlos Gonzalez to correct several technical problems and return in two weeks. Brown asked why the existing map could not be approved subject to correcting the problems.

Later, when the commission conditionally approved a variance to allow an off-street parking ramp. Brown joined in the unanimous vote, but could not resist chiding his fellow commissioners for being inconsistent. He suggested this, too, might just as easily have been shelved until the called-for changes were made.

Commissioners were also chided for lacking a consistent policy on advertising signs.

This comment came from a man who has a lot to do with signs, Robert Bohanna of Marin Neon Co., as the commission denied a seven and one-half foot sign at the Courthouse Creamery's planned new quarters at Fourth and A Streets.

Bohanna contended the sign, which would hang over the sidewalk on Fourth Street at right angles to the building, was within legal limits. But commissioners said they still disliked the size and the overhang.

Complaining that the city has no clearly defined policy on the matter, Bohanna pleaded for "something uniform so a man can stay in business."

Commissioners told Bohanna to appeal to the city council for guidelines.

An angry exchange between another well-known applicant and Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. appeared at one point to get the applicant thrown out without approval of his plans.

Under discussion was Robert Greene's request for a permit to build a 12-foot fence around a paddle tennis court at 220 Canal Street.

Greene lost his temper when Robbins said he was "in effect trying to do by a use permit what one would ordinarily do by zoning."

"That is your opinion," Greene shot back, to which Robbins (an attorney) countered, "I'm sorry, but that is the law."

As the exchange grew more heated, Greene began to interrupt Robbins before he could complete his statements.

"Please, Mr. Greene," pleaded Robbins, "I have a right to finish what I am saying."

Greene said he did not, and controlled his emotions.

After further discussion, commissioners voted 5-2 to approve the permit. Commissioners V. Judson Klein and Robbins dissented.

Tomales Bay Harbor Unit In Works

A harbor district for the maintenance and improvement of Tomales Bay may soon be formed.

Members of the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce, meeting in Olema last night, named Cecil Asman of Inverness to study the harbor district proposal. He will report on his findings at the next chamber meeting, Dec. 8.

The action came after V. M. Moir, district manager of the North Coast Council of the California Chamber of Commerce, urged a district to facilitate and control marine development of Tomales Bay.

Mohr said there are federal funds available for survey work, but the money cannot be obtained unless there is a local agency responsible. He said such funds could be used to survey the mouth of the bay, where a sand bar often makes the channel impassable.

Chamber President Mrs. Ralph J. Benevenga of Olema also reported that Supervisor-elect Thomas T. Storer was examining the possibility of a ridge-top route for the proposed West Marin highway. He said he favors such route over one that would lead through the valleys. He will report on his findings at the next meeting.

Members heard plans for the Marconi Cove Marina at Marshall. Hal Evans and Morgan Noble reported that about 30 boat slips will be available early next year.

Marincello Invitation Gets Frowns

Two Sausalito city councilmen frowned last night on an invitation to have dinner and see a model and film on Frouge Corp.'s proposed new city of Marincello. Two others said a free dinner would not influence them one way or another.

"I, for one, have no interest in Marincello other than the effect it might have on Sausalito," said Mayor Jan Paul Dyk.

"I don't think we should accept," commented Councilman Carl W. Gabrielson. "I don't want to have a sales talk."

Both Councilmen Eleanor O'Hara Chapin and Melvin S. Wax said they are interested in attending the dinner, to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the 3030 Bridgeway building where Frouge has offices.

Councilman Earl F. Dunphy made no comment.

The proposed city, planned for 25,000 inhabitants on completion, is to be built on the opposite side of Wolf Back Ridge from Sausalito.

Collision With Car Injures Bike Rider

Seven-year-old Carl Soloman of 111 Inez Place, Alto, was knocked unconscious when his bicycle ran into the side of a car driven by Richard L. Crawford, 26, of 5 South Knoll Road, Alto, at 2:30 p.m. yesterday at Reed Boulevard and Inez Place, Strawberry.

The boy, son of Mrs. Marilyn M. Soloman, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital. The California Highway Patrol reported he was riding downhill on Inez Place and rounded a corner to hit the westbound auto.

Novato Favors State Control Of Community TV Systems

The Novato City Council wants a legal opinion from the state attorney general on who has jurisdiction to regulate community television antenna systems.

Two such systems are being installed in Novato. Western California Telephone Co. is installing one in San Marin and Kaehler-Farrar Development Co. the other, in Forest Park Unit 8.

Western California Telephone Co. officials contend they are not franchised by the city and therefore the city has no jurisdiction, according to City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr.

Kaehler-Farrar has submitted to the city a plan of its system and by-laws of a proposed cooperative ownership, reported Lawrence A. Coleman, public works director.

The city cannot ask the attorney general for an opinion, Palmer said, so the council voted to ask Marin County to make the request.

The council then endorsed a county recommendation that the California Public Utilities Commission assume jurisdiction over such systems.

By 4-to-1 vote, the council granted James Eggers a permit to operate a nursery at 2004 Novato Boulevard. Mayor Robert D. Carrow dissented, pointing out that the council last spring denied Richard A. Maldonado a permit for a nursery sales office at 1751 Novato Boulevard, two blocks from Eggers' location.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Accepted as complete the municipal swimming pool on Novato High School campus, but held up for one week final payment of $11,400 to the contractor, Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma, pending Palmer's investigation of the guarantees on the pool, which has been in use since June 19.

2. Deferred until Nov. 24 action on a proposed city ordinance to require street dedication and improvements prior to issuing a building permit on a single lot. Palmer is to investigate a court decision on a similar ordinance of the city of Walnut Creek.

3. Denied and sent to the insurance company claims against the city for accident injuries. Fred C. Mauroni of 195 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, asked $15,000 for damages he allegedly received when a horse he was riding hit a cable across Sherwood Place on Aug. 1; Brian Louis Taylor, through his father, Louis J. Taylor of 2445 Center Road, asked $150,000 damages for injuries he received near his home on Center Road.

4. Postponed action until Nov. 24 on a proposed ordinance requirinng paving all parking lots.

5. Received a letter from Gordon Phillips, San Rafael architect, advising that he had a contract with the city to draw plans for renovation of the community house. The council ordered that he proceed with the first phase of this work.

6. Rejected the only bid to supply a four-door sedan, that of De Long Chevrolet Co. of San Rafael at $2,748, and ordered new specifications for bids. The specifications used called for a wheelbase two inches longer than the standard car.

7. Named William Jack Adams as city representative at a PUC hearing Dec. 7 in San Francisco on Greyhound Bus Lines' application for an increase in commuter fares.

8. Accepted right of way deeds from Robert F. and Mary C. Ryan for widening of McClay Road and from Indian Valley Medical Group for widening of Hill Road.

9. Passed an ordinance annexing 120 acres of uninhabited land south of Hamilton Air Force Base, east of Highway 101 and North of St. Vincent's School for Boys.

10. Authorized the city attorney to start condemnation proceedings against Albert Young for right of way for the widening of McClay Road at Thrill Hill.

11. Adjourned a closed session from 11:10 p.m. until 12:15 a.m. to consider appointments to fill four vacancies on two city commissions, but made no appointments; then adjourned to 8 p.m. next Tuesday to study the city's assessment district policy.

Hub Parking, Landscape Plan Gets Approval

A parking and landscape plan in the former San Anselmo bus depot area won approval of the San Anselmo City Council last night.

Landscape architect William L. Kapranos presented a preliminary plan including 92 parking spaces, walkways along the creek, a park area on the south end near Tunstead Avenue, and planting along the perimeter of Center and Sir Francis Drake boulevards.

Kapranos estimated total cost, including lighting, irrigation system, plants, paving and walls would come to more than $30,000.

The architect said the 16-foot sidewalk area, proposed by Mozart Kaufman behind Kaufman's Department Store would fit in with the city's parking and landscaping plan.

City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt said the next step is to work out specific plans and cost estimates.

Injured Driver Puts Blame On Buzzin' Bee

Mrs. Bailey, 31, of 1558 South Novato Boulevard, Novato, was in her car, driving east on Midway Boulevard in her hometown at about 1:35 p.m. when the buzzing bee alarmed her. She swatted at the bee. The car hit a power pole at 680 Midway Boulevard.

School Renovation To Strain District Budget

Rehabilitation of the old main building at San Rafael High School will cost about $700,000, or $100,000 above the budgeted amount, the San Rafael Board of Education learned last night.

Board members, wondering where the extra money would come from, authorized San Rafael architects Carl F. Gromme and Ralph B. Priestley to prepare detailed drawings for the work.

Priestley said construction and equipment would come to $640,000. Supt. Bert C. Corona said fees would bring the cost to about $700,000.

Corona said the 50-cent increase in the general tax rate, voted a year ago to cover increased operating costs and raise funds for high school construction, could continue to bring in construction funds for another year. This would be one way of meeting the higher estimate.

The construction program was to run for four years, but Corona said some of the pressure will be taken off the space needs due to the San Jose-Novato school district unification, so the work could be extended one year.

The work on the main building will include strengthening of walls to bring the building up to specifications of the Field (earthquake safety) Act. It also will include refurbishing of hallways and classrooms, shifting counseling offices from the basement to the main floor, and improving the seating and acoustics in the auditorium.

New window sashes will be installed, the front steps repaired, and the exterior of the building repainted.

Board members also learned of an additional rehabilitation need at the high school when civil engineer H. M. Engle reported that earthquake-proofing of the old gymnasium will cost about $70,000.

He said the building is in fairly good shape and will need only some reframing of the roof structures. The locker room, where showers are now located, will require more extensive work, however.

The board postponed any decision on this problem.

Windows Broken

Youth Hurt In Highway Crash

John Alan Hinman II, 18, of Cotati, was slightly injured at 6:20 p.m. Monday when his car hit one driven by Thelma D. Lauer, 44, of 437 Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, as both skidded on slippery pavement on Highway 101 a half mile north of Spencer Avenue on the Waldo Grade.

A car driven by Maurice H. Wells, 40, of 156 Florence Avenue, Mill Valley, collided with the Lauer car as Wells pulled into another lane to avoid the accident, and bounced across the northbound lanes into a guard rail. All were northbound.

Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department has installed its first radio in its emergency truck and firemen used the radio for drill Monday night, James Dougan, fire protection district commissioner reported today. The radio is tied in with the county communications system.

Donner Summit Snow Halts Freeway Job

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Completion of the last portion of Interstate 80, a 10½-mile segment over Donner Summit, has been delayed due to near-blizzard conditions.

Snow, which has accumulated up to 30 inches along some portions of the new road, was expected to continue falling the rest of the week, the U.S. Weather Bureau said Tuesday.

Hub Council Blocks Library Hiring Plan

By WAT TAKESHITA

San Anselmo's library board last night tried to grab a little more authority over hiring part-time library employees and outlining their duties.

But the attempt ran smack into a legal wall, from which the city council refused to retreat.

Library trustee Louis Yates, spokesman for the board, made a valiant attempt, asking city councilmen for "power to do our own housekeeping."

He made his pitch by recommending changes in the newly revised library ordinance.

Yates objected to a clause that says trustees "shall be subject to removal from said board at the pleasure of the city council."

"If the council doesn't have the right to remove, who does?" asked City Atty. John G. Buresh.

Mayor William Franchini and Councilman John M. Reichmuth pointed out that the power to dismiss is inherent in the power to appoint.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith wanted to leave out the dismissal provision. "Since we've had no trouble in the past, there's no reason to add this provision," said Smith. But he was outvoted by the other four councilmen.

Then Yates wanted the library trustees to be given the power to prescribe the duties of library employees and to hire temporary help.

The city attorney held that the city council, as elected representatives of the people, should retain the authority to prescribe duties and powers of employees. To give library trustees that authority would be illegal, he contended.

Councilmen said library trustees, like all other advisory bodies, certainly have the right to make recommendations.

"The power to recommend is actually no power at all," shot back Yates. He charged that the council is "removing from us the power to do our own housekeeping."

Several minor changes were made in the new library ordinance. One was that the term "trustees" would be retained instead of library "commissioners."

City Attorney Buresh said the ordinance can probably be adopted at the next city council meeting, scheduled Nov. 24.

Teacher Strike In Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Louisville school teachers' strike continued today with the possibility of silent sentinels instead of pickets at the schools. A court order has been issued against picketing, but an attorney advised the strikers it wouldn't apply if they just walked nearby, in silence.

Louisville schools continued to operate even with absences of teachers that hit some schools hard yesterday. There seem to be 150 to 200 strikers compared with the total city teacher force of 1,896.

Tomales High Carnival Set

The student body of Tomales High School will hold its annual November Carnival from 6 to 10 p.m. Nov. 20 in the high school gymnasium and auditorium.

Spaghetti dinner, prepared and served by members of the senior class, will be held in the cafeteria from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Chalkdusters Plan

The Chalkdusters, Novato High School chapter of the Future Teachers of America, will attend a special conference on education Saturday at the University of California in Berkeley. So far, 120 members have signed up for the trip.

ment plan, in 1962, largely by a citizens committee which, after long discussions with the architects and trips to other junior colleges, came up with what was called an "austere" proposal.

The tax passed by a narrow margin, and architects started to work.

The first major project, recently completed, was the physical education complex. The master plan proposed that it should cost $922,613. The contract was let for $1,487,383.28. The increase was not quite so extreme as it looked, because a little site development, included eleswhere in the master plan, was thrown in.

The next building was the college student center, proposed to be built for $472,659 in the master plan. The low bid was $922,963.

The music - drama - speech building, according to the master plan, should cost $703,000. This structure has not yet gone to bid, but the estimate now is $1,467,019, and if all the equipment called for is actually installed, the final cost will be $2,242,990.

The science building has not yet reached the stage for a cost estimate but already it has grown, on the drawing boards, too big for the site on the Kentfield campus, and the district may have to buy more land. The master plan contemplated spending $684,900 for this building.

The physical education complex, as built, covers 45,400 square feet, close to the estimate in the master plan of 43,310. The plan called for spending $16.17 per square foot. Actual cost was $23.12. Additional increases were in cost of the pool and site development.

For the student center, the master plan called for 25,944 square feet of floor space, but the final project has 36,000 square feet, and the estimate for cost per square foot is up from $17.83 in the plan to $25.70.

The music - drama - speech building was first proposed to cover 43,645 square feet. That was cut to 34,593 square feet. Now it is up again—to 59,919 square feet. Projected cost per square foot is up from $18.59 to $24.48.

The master plan for financing contemplated a total income of $11,305,000. Here,too the planners were too conservative. The 10-year income from the tax has been projected to $16,040,224, based on a "realistic annual increase."

Of the amount to be collected, however, the plans called for about half to be spent on the Kentfield campus, to increase its capacity to 2,500 students. The other half was to develop a North Marin campus for the first 1,000 or 1,500 students.

The first parcel of the Pacheco Ranch has been purchased, for $200,000, also much more than expected. There is serious doubt that much money from the tax fund will be left to use on the Novato location.

The district was aided with $498,000 from state bonds in 1962, and may gain as much or more from the state bonds issue authorized Nov. 3, but still more will be needed.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy has said she believes the Kentfield campus will have to be developed to handle 3,000 students. College President Stephen E. Epler has said that the enrollment increase is so much higher than expected that buildings will be needed long before they can be built under the present plan anyway.

Tomorrow's article will discuss some of the places where things went wrong and why.

Pastor Convicted Of Contributing

CHATHAM, Ont. (UPI)—A minister was convicted yesterday of contributing to the delinquency of minors by condoning teen-aged sex orgies in his church.

The Rev. Russel D. Horsburgh, 48, sat head in hands in court while the judge read a 57-page decision in which he found the clergyman guilty on five of eight counts.

Loch Lomond Assn. Meeting Tomorrow

County Park Use Sought For Ranch

The Marin County Board of Supervisors was urged yesterday to develop the historic Burdell Ranch, north of Novato, into a county-state recreational area.

Alton Lerch, president of the Marin County Historical Society, wrote requesting the board to "begin a thorough investigation to develop a feasibility report to acquire and develop this site."

Sale of the 760-acre ranch to a group of about 50 investors, at a price in excess of one million dollars, was announced Monday.

Lerch said remains of one of the original adobe houses in the North Bay Area are within the walls of the Burdell mansion and the site was the location of a skirmish during the Bear Flag Rebellion.

He said the ranch land could be developed as a wildlife reserve and botanical gardens and for picnicking, swimming, hiking and horseback riding.

"It's a little late," Chairman William A. Gnoss commented. The board referred the request to the county parks and recreation commission.

Inmate Assault Guilty Plea

Lorenzo O. Perez, San Quentin Prison inmate, pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to assaulting a fellow-inmate last May 25. He was sentenced by Judge N. Charles Brusatori to one year to life, to run concurrently with his present life sentence.

The plea was to a lesser charge. The original charge of assault with a deadly weapon carries a minimum prison sentence of nine years.

Perez, represented by Peter Allen Smith, public defender, knifed John Charles Foulds, 26, in the lower left side of the back in the prison's recreation yard. Foulds recovered. A jury trial had been scheduled to start yesterday.

Novato Creek Flood Study Fund Requested

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday requested Congress to appropriate $75,000 for a flood control study of the Novato Creek Watershed.

"Novato Creek is one of the more critical areas in the county," reported Arthur T. Knutson, assistant director of public works. "At times, there is more property damage there than at Corte Madera Creek."

Supervisors asked Congress, in effect, to reactivate a Corps of Engineers study that was first authorized in 1941. Then $4,700 was allocated to the study and it was assigned to the Corps' San Francisco office in 1949. Work was stopped in 1951 during the Korean conflict and never was resumed.

Prison Stab Slaying Trial Set For Jan. 12

Murder trial for Alex A. Lechuga, San Quentin Prison inmate, has been scheduled for Jan. 12 in Judge N. Charles Brusatori's division of Marin Superior Court.

Lechuga allegedly attacked Leotis White and William W. Stokes in the prison exercise yard on Aug. 8, killing White and seriously injuring Stokes. He was serving time for possession of marijuana.

Women's Study Group Planned

Two new programs for adults will start in the next six days at the Marin Jewish Community Center, one a women's study group, the other a drama workshop.

The study group sessions, two hours on the second Thursday of each month, begin tomorrow at 9:45 a.m. Under the guidance of resource people from the Bay Area, members will study and express themselves on literature, drama, philosophy and comparative religion.

The drama workshop will be conducted by Jack Kosslyn, former director of a theatre workshop in Los Angeles. An introductory session will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the center, at 1618 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Socialites Fined For Staging Teen-Age Cocktail Session

STAMFORD, Conn. (UPI) — A psychiatrist and his socialite wife were fined $1,000 yesterday for hosting a teen-aged cocktail party which preceded a traffic death.

Circuit Judge Alfred A. Toscano fined Dr. George S. Hughes 43, and his wife Julia, 44, of Darien, Conn., $500 each.

Nancy Jane Hitchings, 17, was killed when the station wagon she was riding in with a male party guest crashed into a tree. The youth, Michael Smith, 19, was convicted of negligent homicide charges.

Co-hosts Dudley P. Felt, 60, and his wife, Marguerite pleaded no contest to the charges and were fined $500. Henry Clem, 44, who tended one of the bars was fined $150.

Africa Climate Seen In Soviet

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russian winter isn't as cold as it used to be, a Soviet geographer says.

G. Sidorov wrote in the newspaper Village Life that some day parts of the Soviet Union may look life Africa.

Sidorov said more than 600,000 square miles of ice fields on the shores of the Arctic Ocean melted during the 1924-44 and in recent years forests have advanced from 30 to 60 miles into the barran tundra region in some areas.

Paradise Park Bids Out Again

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday rejected bids on the initial development of Paradise Beach County Park for the second time.

The bids were rejected in September as "excessive." They were rejected yesterday because the low bidder failed to comply with bid requirements.

The rejection was voted after A. and J. Shooter Inc. of San Rafael, second low bidder, protested awarding of the contract. Shooter claimed that Asphalt Surfacing Co. did not comply with specifications because it did not submit bids on both the major work and the alternate job of constructing restrooms.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said it was his opinion that the bid must be rejected.

Group To Debate Rafferty's Ideas

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The possibility of a new approach to the special studies program in grades 1-3 in California's public schools will be debated by the State Curriculum Commission.

The commission, opening a three-day meeting Nov. 16 in Los Angeles, will examine a proposal by Max Rafferty, superintendent of public instruction.

Rafferty, who presides over the 11-member commission, favors initiating students with a global view of social studies first rather than beginning at the neighborhood level of learning and expanding. Rafferty also wants a historical examination of world personalities in social studies curriculum.

Driver's Ear Cut As Car Rolls Over

Gerhard B. Bacher, 38, 86 Corte Encanto, Greenbrae, escaped with only a cut right ear when his car rolled over on Highway 101 400 feet north of the Waldo Tunnel as Bacher was driving north at 1 a.m. yesterday.

The car knocked down a light pole at the side of the road. He told highway patrolmen another car had cut in front of his on a curve, and splashing water obscured his vision. The car landed on its top, but Bacher was able to climb out.

The will of the comedian, who died Oct. 10 at the age of 72, was filed for probate yesterday. The value of the estate was not disclosed.

Bank Of Marin Is Opening Novato Branch This Friday

Opening of a Novato branch of Bank of Marin on Friday will mark the third consecutive year the bank has chosen November to establish a new office.

The bank's main office opened on Fourth Street in San Rafael in November of 1962. Last November its Petaluma branch was established.

President William P. Murray Jr. said it is now planned to open new San Rafael headquarters at Fifth Avenue and B Street next November.

The Novato branch will be in the Roberts-Aguirre Building at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street. It is a temporary location. Murray said a permanent site has not yet been chosen.

Heading the office staff of six will be Glen Tovani as manager and Robert Woodward as assistant manager. There will be three teller stations.

Before the doors are opened at 10 a.m. Friday, officers will receive a horseshoe, a rabbit's foot, a simulated four-leaf clover and a Japanese good luck cat "because it is Friday, the 13th," said Murray. "We want this bank to be a successful one."

The public is invited to visit the new office between 10 a.m. and 9 p.m., he said. Refreshments will be served and favors distributed.

Tovani said that as an inducement for Novato savers, a charge-free checking account is being offered to every person who opens a $100 savings account. The offer is open until 6 p.m., Nov. 27.

On June 30, Bank of Marin reported total resources of $15,026,604. Deposits totaled $12,391,231. Capital stock, surplus and reserves amounted to $1,635,000.

Testimony Ends In Hearing On Drive-In Death

Testimony in the hearing of James D. Henry, 17, charged with the Aug. 30 death of William E. Hoover following an Ignacio drive-in encounter, ended yesterday afternoon in Marin Juvenile Court.

Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. said his decision will be made Dec. 4.

Henry, of Hamilton Air Force Base, allegedly hit Hoover, 18, son of Chief M/Sgt. and Mrs. Cecil E. Hoover of 598 Bolling Drive, also at Hamilton, at Burge's Drive-In Restaurant last Aug. 27. The victim died in Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

Amateur Radio Tower Denied By Planners

By 5-2 vote, the San Rafael Planning Commission denied the request of a Crestwood Drive man to build a 71-foot amateur radio transmitting antenna in his backyard.

The action meant that Harold Bennett of 61 Crestwood Drive will have to limit the tower's height to 37 feet (12 feet above his rooftop) which the city zoning ordinance allows him to do without a permit.

It appeared that the commission's decision actually cost Bennett only three feet, since the planning staff had recommended a "ceiling" of 40 feet.

Commissioners Carl S. Brown and Thomas R. O'Toole voted against denial. O'Toole said he feared bringing the antenna down "might be worse" than allowing the taller tower.

The continued hearing was attended by several of Bennett's neighbors, many of whom loudly protested the plan at a previous meeting.

The female sea horse plays but a brief part in producing the young. She deposits her eggs in the male's brood pouch, then swims away. After about 10 days, the fry are hatched and ejected.

Tighter School Reins Ordered

Trustees of West Marin School District Monday night ordered a tighter rein on the school's kindergarten program, saying there can be no inter-district attendance unless it is first approved by the board.

Supt. Howard F. Brose said the new order constituted a revision of policy. He would not tell the Independent - Journal what prompted the change.

Trustees last night also learned that the school district has a clean bill of health. Tuberculosis skin testing two weeks ago showed three positive cases. Subsequent tests showed that all three were free of tuberculosis, Brose said.

ACTRESS BARRED — Shirley Eaton, blonde British actress, was barred from appearing on a television program by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, Paul Ringe of United Artists Corp. disclosed in New York yesterday. Ringe said Shirley, 27, was blocked from appearing on a program last week because "she'd be replacing an American performer." Shirley was to have gone on TV to tell how she was painted gold from head to toe for the movie "Goldfinger," in which she has the female lead. (AP Wirephoto)

Lip Bitten Off By Dog Sewn Back

EL CAJON (UPI)—Surgenas today quoted a 50-50 chance of success for an operation in which the lip of a 4-year-old girl was retrieved from a dog's stomach and sewn back onto her face.

Little Cheri Carrigan of nearby Spring Valley was visiting the home of friends last Sunday when she touched the family's Labrador retriever, Molly, while it was eating.

The dog bit the girl, severing about three-fourths of her lip.

The girl was taken to El Cajon Valley Hospital, where doctors said the lip might be replaced if it could be retrieved from Molly's stomach.

Donald Tucci, owner of the dog, permitted his pet to be destroyed so the lip could be recovered from its stomach.

The lip then was taken to the hospital, where it was sterilized and sewn back onto the girl's face. Cheri was resting under sedation yesterday and doctors said there was a 50-50 chance of the operation being successful.

Hit-Run Suspect Gives His Alibi

CELINA, Tenn. (UPI)— Grover Jones, an Indiana handyman charged with a 1944 hit-run traffic death, testified today he did not have an automobile at the time of the incident.

Jones, brought to trial following a determined search for the killer by the victim's son, said he could not afford a car at the time Newt Lee was struck and killed on a road near here.

Jones, a native of this area who moved to Camden, Ohio, in the fall of 1944, is charged with second degree murder in Lee's death. He was indicted last year when Welby Lee, the victim's son, turned over to a grand jury 152 pages of evidence obtained in an 18-year, 100,000-mile search for the killer.

Jackson Hardware Stocks Shelves For Opening, Maybe Next Week

A new builder's supply house —Jackson Hardware—is in the process of stocking its shelves for an official opening, probably next week, at 435 Du Bois Street, San Rafael—near Woodland Avenue.

The tool department is already stocked and open for business, says proprietor Harris Jackson, but a few more days are needed to complete inventories of rough and finished hardware.

Jackson, a San Rafael resident, was formerly vice president and general manager of L. G. Smith Building Supplies, Inc., and was with that firm for 10 years.

Working with him are Forrest (Tommy) Thompson of Larkspur, who was nine years with L. C. Smith; Thomas B. Richey —also of Larkspur and one time L. C. Smith employee, and Anthony Garino of Sausalito, formerly with C. W. Marwedel in San Francisco. This combination constitutes 60 years of experience in the building supplies trade, according to Jackson.

The new business occupies about 5,000 square feet of floor space. Strictly speaking it is not a retail store, and principal customers will be contractors and others in the building trades. It will not be open on Saturdays.

MARRELL STUDIOS, metal gift manufacturers on Louise Street, San Rafael, has been sold by Gerald Graham of Sleepy Hollow to James Guilder of Greenbrae who intends to expand its services in metal polishing and refinishing (no plating), and also do custom work in brass, copper and bronze.

Graham, a mechanical engineer, plans to go into another business, but says it's too soon to announce the details. The transaction was handled by Edwin Kingsland of Redmond Realty.

HOWARD G. TOBIN of Ross, president of North American Maritime Agencies, is spending this week in Japan attending the annual meeting of steamship owners engaged in the Japan trans-Pacific trade. The weeklong conference is taking place at the Hakone Kanko Hotel in the Hakone National Forest resort area.

Roy Rogers Leases Big Desert Resort Hotel

APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (UPI)—Movie cowboy Roy Rogers has signed a 25-year lease for the Apple Valley Inn at a minimum rental fee of two million dollars.

When the contracts become effective Nov. 15, the 101-room western resort hotel will be known as Roy Rogers Apple Valley Inn.

Terephthalic Acid Unit Being Planned

CHICAGO—Construction of a large commercial unit to make purified terephthalic acid has been announced by Herschel H. Cudd, president of Amoco Chemicals Corp.

The chemical, a raw material for polyester fibers and films, has not been available at adequate purity in commercial quantities in the United States, Cudd said. Facilities, which are expected to be in operation by September, 1965, will produce several million pounds per month of purified terephthalic acid.

Market Holds High, Keeping Up A Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today as prices followed through on an early afternoon rally.

Closing prices were the day's best.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4 million shares compared with 4.01 million yesterday.

A rebound by steels sparked the market into a rise following an irregular decline in the morning.

The top steelmakers kept a string of fractional gains. Lukens and National Steel advanced more than a point each.

Rails also snapped back from recent losses. New York Central was up nearly 2 and Pennsylvania and Missouri-Pacific "A" about a point each. Some other leading carriers showed fractional losses and gains. Rock Island and Chicago and North Western rose more than 1 each.

Airlines continued in demand. Pan American, up nearly a point, looked like the volume leader for the entire list. National Airlines and Northwest rose more than a point and Delta 2 points or better.

Banks and some other institutions were closed for Veterans Day.

Gains exceeding a point were made by Sears, Roebuck, Xerox, Time Inc., Purolator, Addressograph, Aeroquip, Continental Bakeries, J. Ray McDermott and Sinclair.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. Markets for U.S. government bonds were closed because of Veterans' Day.

Business Put Over

With barely a quorum present, the Larkspur Planning Commission last night deferred all action until its Nov. 24 meeting. Scheduled for discussion then are parking restriction, height limitation variance policies, and "planned unit development" zoning.

Stock Sale Proposed

LA CROSSE, Wis. — The Trane Co. has announced it has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a registration statement relating to a proposed secondary public offering of 233,000 shares of the company's common stock.

Dividend Declared

NEW YORK—The board of directors of Metromedia, Inc., has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share on the common stock, payable Feb. 1, 1965, to stockholders of record Jan. 15, 1965.

STOCK READIED FOR OPENING— —Sheldon R. Milenbach (left), vice president of Milens Jewelers, assists store manager Herman A. Milens Jewelers To Open Tomorrow In Northgate

Milens Jewelers, large credit jewelry and appliance firm opening tomorrow in San Rafael, will be the first new store in Unit Two of the Northgate Shopping Center since the Emporium opening last July.

Occupying 3,000 square feet across the mall from the Emporium's west entrance and adjoining space reserved for Roos-Atkins, it will be Milen's fifth store in the Bay Area.

Milens at Northgate will feature the same type of merchandise sold at stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Hayward and Richmond. Diamonds and other jewelry items, chinaware, silverware, cameras, small appliances and related merchandise will be stocked.

The company was founded in Oakland in 1934 by Louis J. Milenbach, San Franciscan who began his career as a teenage trainee in a wholesale and manufacturing firm. Later he went into sales and traveled extensively in the Orient and South Pacific. He is president of the company and has earned a national reputation as a diamond expert.

His son Sheldon, now vice president, has been active in the business since he was schoolboy. He buys many of the lines sold in the stores and has earned something of a reputation of his own as a designer of men's and women's wrist watches. In addition, he acts as field supervisor of all stores.

Benjamin Shane, secretary-treasurer, was once a Market Street newsboy in San Francisco, and later was trained in several of the city's jewelry firms. He joined Milens the year it was organized.

The Northgate store will be managed by Herman A. Pencovic, a native of Oakland. He has been with Milens for 16 years and has worked at each of the other stores as buyer and merchandise manager.

Pencovic is a graduate of Armstrong College and served for three years in the Army overseas during World War II. He, and his wife Agnes and their two children live in Oakland, but the family expects to move to Marin.

Louis Milenbach said opening of the Northgate store represents a move in the company's recently stepped-up program of Bay Area expansion. "We expect to establish three more stores during 1965," he said. "One of these will be opened next spring in the new Southland Shopping Center in Hayward, giving us two stores in that city."

Goldfield Sells Airline Interest

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Goldfield Corp., a San Francisco-based firm which originated with mining interests at Evanston, Wyo., said yesterday it was selling its controlling interest in Frontier Airlines to RKO General Inc. for 6.5 million dollars.

The sale involved 54.9 per cent of Frontier's stock. The stock originally was purchased by Goldfield in March of 1962 for 3 million dollars from L. B. Maytag of Colorado Spring, Colo.

RKO General is a wholly owned subsidiary of General Tire and Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio. General Tire also owns Aerojet General Inc., a major space contractor.

Governor Says Business Booms

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown said yesterday that sales and corporation tax collections indicated "business in California is booming."

Brown made the statement after noting that receipts flowing into the state's general fund were 18 million dollars more than expected during the first quarter of the current fiscal year.

He said that receipts from July through September totaled 378 million dollars, nearly 18 million more than estimated last June, with nearly all of the extra money attributable to the sales tax and the levy on bank and corporation profits.

No Quorum, No Meet

The Belvedere Recreation Commission did not meet last night for lack of a quorum. The commission will meet at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 at the Belvedere Community Hall.

Rains May Postpone Championship Game

INCOMPLETE PASS PLAY

Drake High School's Larry Stein (81) tries for a catch but San Rafael's Gary Palmateer (88) moves in to break up the play during last Saturday's game in Kentfield. Other gridders in the picture are San Rafael's Gary Ferrari (65) and Ken Pharms (78) and Drake's John O'Mara (74) and Al Simontacchi (1). Drake won the game, 7-0, setting the stage for this week's scheduled showdown between Drake and Terra Linda High. The game, weather permitting, will be played Saturday at 8 p.m. in College of Marin Stadium. (Independent-Journal photos)

WHAT A FACE!—Drake High School's mascot, Long John Silver, presents a wicked looking face. Long John and the rest of the Pirates will be trying to take home all the loot of the Marin Athletic League football championship Saturday night when the Pirates battle the Terra Linda Trojans.

OFF AND RUNNING — John Forry, Terra Linda end and punt return specialist, starts off on an 89-yard punt return against Marin Catholic, good for a touchdown.

Decision May Be Made Tomorrow

There was a strong possibility today the championship football game between Terra Linda and Drake high schools would have to be postponed.

The game is scheduled to be played Saturday night at College of Marin stadium in Kentfield, but Pete Limm, head grid coach at Terra Linda, said today that the field was partially under water. He stated that a decision possibly would be made tomorrow.

The Kentfield field has been drenched by the current storm, and being a low spot, has been covered by as much as four feet of water in past years. Even if the rains stop, the field will still be a muddy swamp by gametime.

Terra Linda, being the host school for the game, will make the decision as to whether or not it will be played. The T.L. coaching staff will huddle tomorrow in an attempt to reach a decision.

Meanwhile, practice goes on.

At both schools today, the teams stayed indoors as steady rains slashed the football fields. Limm plans no more contact work for his chargers, trying to get their timing down to a fine point. The Trojans had chalk talk this morning while the regular students got the day off for Veterans' Day.

ACHES, PAINS

"We also took care of our aches and pains," said Limm. "We had a few of the boys in the whirlpool bath trying to get sore muscles in shape. We'll be able to come back fresh tomorrow."

Over at Drake, head coach Bob Franceschini had his boys working through plays in the gym. "We are not taking chances of the kids catching the cold or flu," said Franceschini. "We were able to cover the things we wanted to cover inside. "We'll get outside tomorrow and Friday to get the feel of the mud."

GOOD SHAPE

Injurywise, all the Drake Pirates are in good shape, coming out of the San Rafael game last Saturday without any injuries.

Both teams will be carrying 8-0 season records and 5-0 league marks into the game. With the championship title of the Marin Athletic League at stake, the game is expected to draw a possible 9,000 fans.

Other action scheduled this weekend in the Marin Athletic League is Novato vs. San Rafael, Friday night at 8 o'clock on the San Rafael field; and Tamalpais vs. Redwood Saturday, 2 p.m., on the College of Marin field.

25-YEAR AGREEMENT

Braves Sign Pact For Atlanta Move

ATLANTA (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves have signed a 25-year contract to begin playing baseball in Atlanta's $18 million stadium in 1966.

The contract was signed late yesterday in Chicago by Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta-Fulton County Recreation Authority, and Braves officials. Montgomery called Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta while the contract was being signed.

"Tell them they just made the best trade they've ever made," Allen told Montgomery.

The contract signing took place two days before it was scheduled. Atlanta and Brave officials apparently were apprehensive that Milwaukee County officials might further delay the plans to move to Atlanta by securing another court order restraining the Braves from signing any agreement until the end of the 1965 season.

The officials already had secured a court order restraining the Braves from signing a contract to play in Atlanta in 1965.

"In the event the club is unable to transfer its franchise to Atlanta . . . for the 1965 baseball season because of an enforceable order of a court of last resort, the authority shall not permit the stadium premises to be used for major league basell during the year 1965 and the term of this agreement . . . begins on Jan. 1, 1966, and ends on Dec. 31, 1990."

NEW CONTRACT

Therefore, if the Braves should come to Atlanta in 1965, it will not be necessary to draw up a new contract.

Allen was jubilant over the signing. "The lease is now signed, the transfer having previously been approved by the National League and Atlanta now has major league baseball for the first time in its history," he said.

Montgomery asked Allen when Braves board chairman William Bartholomay and executive vice president Thomas Reynolds could come to Atlanta for formal ceremonies.

"Anytime they want to," Allen said. "They've got an engraved, silverplated invitation."

There was a tentative agreement for the officials to come to Atlanta Thursday.

An authoritive source said the Braves are "not planning in the near future to televise any home games," although the contract authorizes them to televise as many as 25 a year.

VAST NETWORK

"They're planning to set up a vast radio network that will blanket the Southeast — at least eight states, maybe more," the official said.

He said a major factor in the Braves' decision to come to Atlanta was that this region is a new and developing market.

"This will cut the American League right out of the Southeast," he said, "and that's another reason the National League was so interested in seeing the Braves move to Atlanta."

The Braves' payment to the DOUBLE CATCH—Drake High School defensive back John Boothby (22) and Petaluma High School end Kirk Hay both try for this pass in their opening game of the season. Hay wound up with the ball, but the Drake Pirates won the game, 19-14. It was the only loss of the year for the Petaluma eleven, and started the Pirates off to an 8-0 record. Terra Linda also boasts an 8-0 record, with the two teams battling Saturday for the Marin championship.

TD CATCH — Rick Edwards, Terra Linda halfback, grabs a Gary Lieberman pass good for a touchdown against Marin Catholic.

PARALYMPICS

U.S. Wheelchair Hoopsters Roll

TOKYO (AP) — The United States trounced defending champion Britain 49-16 in a complete paraplegic division game of the 1964 Paralympics today and whipped Israel 44-20 in an incomplete paraplegic encounter to maintain an undefeated record.

The United States, defending champions in the incomplete division, is favored to win its final matches in both classes tomorrow and sweep both titles.

The Americans edged Israel 22-21 to capture the incomplete title last year, but the Americans ran rings around their opponents today and racked up a 26-8 halftime lead.

Bill Fairbanks, who scored 14 points, and Saul Welger, who netted 10, spearheaded the American attack.

George Swindlehurst, Britain's team captain, said the British were outclassed by the taller U.S. squad which shared most of the rebounds.

"They simply outranked us," he said.

The American victories were predicted. Coach Russ Churchman of Los Alamitos, Calif., described both squads as "the best ones we've ever had."

The United States is expected to clinch the titles Thursday — the closing day of the Paralympics — by defeating Italy in the incomplete division and Israel in the complete class.

Turley To Try For Comeback

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bob Turley, baseball's outstanding pitcher in 1958, will join the Houston Colts this spring in an attempt to make a comeback as a major league pitcher.

"If Turley's arm is sound, and he says it is, he should be a valuable addition to our pitching staff," Paul Richards, Colt general manager, said today.

Last season Turley was pitching coach for the Boston Red Sox. Most of his career was spent with the Baltimore Orioles and New York Yankees.

"He had a pretty good strikeout, and hits-per-inning record in his last season, and he's an intelligent pitcher," Craft said.

"My arm feels fine now, and I definitely feel I can still win in the majors," Turley said.

Hutchinson Failing Rapidly

His physician, Dr. J.H. Dean, said Hutchinson's condition turned from poor to critical after "only a fair night" at a Bradenton hospital.

Hutchinson re-entered the hospital yesterday after spending several days at his nearby Anna Maria Island home. He has been suffering from cancer for nearly a year.

Giants Sign A Bus Boy

The San Francisco Giants have signed a bus boy at the Hilton Hotel to a baseball contract.

Scout Eddie Montague announced yesterday that he had obtained the signed contract of infielder Antonio Vargas, 18, of Nicaragua.

Vargas, six feet tall and 165 pounds, has been playing with the Giants' team in a winter league here and caught the eye of Montague.

Heavyweight Elimination Plan Scuttled By 'Deals'

— The commissioner of the World Boxing Assn. said today his organization's proposed elimination tournament for the heavyweight boxing championship was scuttled because the top-rated challengers were offered a deal involving the outcome of the Clay-Liston title fight.

Abe J. Greene of Paterson also said in an interview here that a challenger already has been chosen to fight the winner of the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight next Monday in Boston. The WBA does not recognize it as a title fight.

Clay won the championship in Miami Beach last February when Liston was unable to answer the bell for the seventh round of their scheduled 15-rounder.

The WBA, which does not recognize return title bouts, proposed an elimination tourney for the heavyweight championship among former champion Floyd Patterson, Doug Jones, Ernie Terrell and Cleveland Williams. The proposal was made when it was clear Clay would sign with Liston for his first title defense.

"I charge that a deal has been made to frustrate the effort to develop a tournament which would lead to a champion other than these two (Clay and Liston)," Greene said.

"Deals have already been made with the challengers we rated for the tourney depending on the outcome of the fight.

"All kinds of offers were held out to them (rated challengers) so they refused to risk the opportunity to fight the titlist by fighting in a tournament.

"They refused to fight each other because of the promises made to them.

IF CLAY WINS

"If Clay wins again . . . because there is a big gate in prospect, he will fight Patterson," Greene said, "and if Liston wins, Patterson will retire from boxing and Liston will fight one of the other three . . . whichever one will be the biggest draw."

Jones apparently is out of the championship running, having been defeated recently by Billy Daniels and George Chuvalo.

Greene said Liston wouldn't fight Patterson because he twice knocked him out in the first round, and "the bout wouldn't draw."

"This is not a world's heavyweight championship fight as far as the World Boxing Assn. is concerned," Greene said. "We wanted Liston to prove himself after he quit in the chair."

The commissioner said the "big issue here is whether a little clique like the Nilons and the Listons or whoever else is associated with them can manipulate heavyweights and championships as their own private property and thumb their nose at the sport, its orderly regulation and its constituted authorities."

"If heavyweights can be manipulated the way this small clique is doing it, how can you keep boxing — whatever remains of it — from deteriorating into a jungle?"

Greene said Merv McKenzie of Toronto, president of the WBA, will call a meeting of the association's executive committee after the fight to discuss the heavyweight situation. He said the meeting would probably be held during the first week in December in Detroit.

Fight Magazine Lists Cassius As The Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — Ring Magazine listed Cassius Clay today as "still the world champion" and named Sonny Liston the No. 1 heavyweight contender in its November boxing ratings.

The World Boxing Association withdrew recognition of Clay as heavyweight champion for signing a return bout with Liston at Boston, Nov. 16. Its last monthly ratings failed to list either in the top 10.

The championship was listed as vacant and Ernie Terrell of Philadelphia was ranked first. In the Ring ratings, Terrell was rated third contender behind Liston and Floyd Patterson, another former champion.

George Chuvalo, the chunky Canadian heavyweight who stopped Doug Jones of New York in the 11th round last month, was promoted from ninth to sixth place. Jones, who was the leading contender not too long ago, was dropped from fifth to ninth.

Stan Musial Is Toasted And Roasted

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — The west coast branch of the Friars Club, which has many stars of the entertainment world on its roster, decided to give a testimonial dinner for Stan Musial, the now retired all-time baseball great of the St. Louis Cardinals.

About 500 members and guests packed the club last night to honor Stan the Man, with proceeds of the dinner going to charity.

George Jessel, head Friar, was master of ceremonies and among those who toasted and roasted Musial were Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Milton Berle, and numerous baseball cronies of the Cardinal star.

One of the few serious notes was struck by Vin Scully, the voice of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who put it this way:

A Review Of Unbeaten Schools' Grid History

By MAURICE WEINGER

When Terra Linda meets Drake Saturday night at Kentfield for the championship in the Marin Athletic League it will be a contest between the youngest school in varsity play against a school in its 14th season of competition. Neither has won an undisputed varsity grid title, although Drake tied for the championship last year.

The Trojans are only in their third season of varsity play, all under head coach Pete Limm. During this time, Terra Linda has had only one losing year, its first in 1962 when a 4-5 mark capped the initial season.

Last year the Trojans started fast, winning their first three practice games, but injuries to key players, such as Gary Leiberman, the starting quarterback, stopped the drive and the team finished 3-3 in the league and 6-3 overall.

Drake, on the other hand, has had four head coaches during its period, first competing in the old North Bay League and presently in the MAL since 1959.

Coach Bob Franceschini started his reign in 1958. Previous head mentors were George Corson (1951-52), Ken Blue (1953), and Bob Troppmann (1954-57).

Drake's high point in the '50s was in 1956 when the team finished second in the tough NBL behind Vallejo with a 7-2 mark. Only losses were to Vallejo and San Rafael.

In the 1960s, the Pirates have been near first place or tied for it in the past four years. In 1961, Franceschini's 11 fiinshed second to Novato with a 4-1 league mark, had a rebuilding year in 1962 when it split its six league games and tied for the MAL championship last year with San Rafael, with a 5-1 record. Overall, the Piartes were 8-1 for last season.

While Terra Linda in its short time hasn't had a chance to build up a famed football alumni, Drake has had a few good one who have made a name for themselves in the collegiate ranks.

Probably the greatest was Reg Carolan, a tailback who starred at Idaho, not only in football, but basketball and track and is now in his third year of professional football with the Kansas City Chiefs. Also, another back who became a tough linebacker in college, Dick DeBisschop, made quite a name for himself at Oregon State where he also coached the freshmen at OSU last year and is presently a high school coach in Oregon.

BIG COMEBACK—Outfielder Jimmy Piersall of the Los Angeles Angels tends to his fatherly chores at his Encino, Calif., home after hearing of his selection as American League comeback player of the year. WARRIORS, PISTONS, L.A. WIN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

To Dave DeBusschere, a third-year player in the National Basketball Assn., the buzzer ending last night's Detroit Pistons-Baltimore Bullets game had a very special ring.

It was DeBusschere's first game as coach of the Pistons, who ended a six-game losing streak with a 119-117 victory the Bullets in the opener of an NBA doubleheader at Philadelphia's Convention Hall.

"Man, I sure loved that sound," he said of the final buzzer. "It's good to win. I think everybody was trying extra hard — and not only because of me. After all, we were in a losing streak and we sure wanted to end it."

Rod Thorn, who led the Pistons' scoring with 27 points, broke a 115-tie with a field goal with 59 seconds left and pumped in two free throws half a minute later to wrap it up. Thorn had a special reason for playing hard.

His roomie, the 24-year-old DeBusschere, was named interim head coach yesterday by newly appointed Executive Manager Don Wattrick. DeBusschere replaces Charley Wolf.

In the nightcap, Wilt Chamberlain tallied 36 points to lead the Warriors to their 110-99 victory over the 76ers. The loss dropped Philadelphia to third place in the Eastern Division, behind the Boston Celtics, who haven't lost a game, and the Cincinnati Royals. Both were idle yesterday.

Chet Walker was high for the 76ers, with 18, followed by rookie Lucious Jackson, with 16.

The Lakers opened up a 22-point lead over the Knicks in the second period only to have New York cut the deficit to 71-67 in the third stanza.

With Los Angeles leading 88-81 late in the final quarter, rookies Jim Barnes and Willis Reed, the Knicks' leading scorers with 21 and 17 points, respectively, fouled out.

Jerry West topped the Lakers with 27 points, four below his league-leading average. He was held to only one field goal in the second half.

COMEBACK OF THE YEAR

Piersall's Biggest Thrill

ENCINO, Calif. (AP)— A jubilant Jimmy Piersall called it "my biggest thrill in baseball" upon learning that he'd been chosen the American League's Comeback Player of the Year for 1964.

"This has to be a turning point in my career," said the 34-year-old outfielder.

He was picked in the annual Associated Press poll of baseball writers. Results of the voting by 77 writers were announced yesterday.

Piersall was named on 20 ballots, one more than veteran first baseman Bill Skowron.

"I always knew I was a big league player," Piersall said in an interview. "I think I had the worst feeling of my life when the Mets released me last year. That's about as low as you can stoop—to be released by the Mets.

"The best break I got was when Bill Rigney and Fred Haney (manager and general manager of the Los Angeles Angels) gave me the opportunity to prove that I could still play in the big leagues."

Piersall, with 14 years in the majors, batted .314 in 87 games for the Los Angeles club this year. He was unconditionally released by the Angels on Sept. 17, 1963, and re-signed by them after a spring training trial.

"I didn't have a great spring," Piersall recalled, "but they just stood by me and gave me an opportunity to coach the young outfielders."

BAD LEG

He said the team physicians, Drs. Robert Kerlan and Robert Wood, "both encouraged me, and with some shots my bad leg came around."

By having a good season in 1946, Piersall figures he'll be able to stay in the game a couple more years as a player and coach.

It's understandable that Piersall is security-conscious. He's the father of seven girls and two boys.

"I talked to my wife in Abilene, Tex.," he said. "She's on the way out here with the three oldest. I have the six younger ones with me.

"My wife was as pleased (about the award) as I am. She knows what it means for me to stay in baseball because baseball is my first love."

The Piersalls, who formerly lived about a block from the Kennedy family compound in Hyannis Port, Mass., are going to be living in a rented six-bedroom, ranch-style home in this Los Angeles suburb.

"Throughout the years," said Piersall, "I haven't always gotten along with all of the writers. But this is one time when I really appreciate them — their giving me this award."

Would he care to say anything further about the Mets?

"Why rub it in?" he replied.

Other votes in the AP poll: Skowron, who divided the year with Washington and Chicago, 19; Ed Bressoud, Boston, 6; Bob Tillman, Boston, 4; Dean Chance, Los Angeles, Roger Maris, New York, and Felix Mantilla, Boston, 3 each; Rocky Colavito, Kansas City, 2; Joe Adcock and Willie Smith, Los Angeles, Luis Aparicio and Harvey Haddix, Baltimore, Don McMahon, Cleveland, Mickey Mantle, New York, Ron Kline, Washington, and Al Worthington, Minnesota, 1 each.

'BAD GUY' CLAY TALKS OF GOD AND LISTON

BOSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay hopes God will be in his corner when he takes on Sonny Liston next Monday night in defense of his world heavyweight boxing championship.

"If I win, it'll be the will of God," Clay said yesterday in a display of the deeper man better known as a talkative clown with a punch. "If I lose," he added, "it'll be God's will."

Clay, who has adopted the Muslim religion as well as the religious name, Muhammad Ali, said his new religion has given him a billion followers around the world, followers who never heard of boxing until he became champion.

He said he receives letters every day from countries like Pakistan, Egypt, Turkey and Morocco. The writers ask him to visit and say they will pray for him.

The champion said he will visit the Middle East after the fight, especially Turkey, "where 40,000 people are waiting to see me."

He also said his Muslim religion is the reason some people in the United States make him the "bad guy" for this fight. "But I don't care, just so long as they buy the tickets."

While the challenger, Liston, worked out in historic Plymouth, many miles from the scene of the fight at Boston Garden, Clay was telling what he proposes to do to keep his psychological war in full swing.

"C'MON, BEAR"

"I plan to talk to the Bear (as he refers to Liston) when we get in the ring," he said. "I talked to him last time, too. I told him, 'C'mon, Bear, you're losing your crown. Watch this one, Bear —pow pow — C'mon, Bear, you gotta fight to win'."

Cassius reiterated plans to pull some surprise antics at the weigh-in next Monday afternoon, despite the fact he and Liston have had to put up $2,500 apiece as insurance against a repetition of what happened in Miami.

Clay behaved so badly at the Miami weigh-in that a doctor said he wasn't mentally fit to fight.

Clay said he is having a cage made for next Monday's weigh-in and, "I might get hold of some hound dogs to catch the Bear."

He went on a Bear-hunting expedition Monday, before a pre-fight physical check, stopping traffic on Boston's Commonwealth Avenue by parading between trolley cars and in front of trucks with a noose he called a bear trap.

Clay was asked later how he thinks he would have fared against fighters the public has proclaimed "the greatest," such as Rocky Marciano, who retired a few years ago undefeated.

"If I could find an opponent like Rocky Marciano," he said, "We would draw a $20 million gate."

The Braves will control all concessions with the exception of parking, which will be operated by the authority. Under the contract, the authority may not charge more than 50 cents per car during the first 10 years of the contract.

In Milwaukee, the Braves had a contract which gave Milwaukee County control over concessionaire prices. However, an authority source said the Atlanta contract contains no price controls.

ALL BEER

The Braves also were obligated to sell all brands of beer in Milwaukee, but the Atlanta contract contains no such provision. It also provides that offices for the Braves' organization will be furnished, rent-free, in the stadium.

Admission prices in Atlanta will be limited to the highest amount now charged by any other National League team.

The television limit of 25 games per season does not apply to such free television as the National Game of the Week, or to visiting teams' rights to telecast games back to their home territory, provided the programs are not seen within 75 miles of Atlanta.

Meanwhile, in Milwaukee, the county board voted unanimously to send a delegation to Washington, D.C., to meet with officials about the prospects of starting an antitrust action against the Braves and other National League clubs.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., who urged the county to institute such a suit, said the county should sue for triple damages and an injunction because the league voted to permit the Braves to shift to Atlanta in 1966 but ordered them to stay in Milwaukee for the 1965 season.

2,000 PAY LAST RESPECT TO VERDUCCI

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —The funeral of Joe Verducci, San Francisco State athletic director and San Mateo County supervisor-elect, yesterday drew more than 2,000 friends.

Verducci, who would have been 54 today, died Friday of a heart attack.

Every seat was occupied at Our Lady of Mercy Church in Westlake for the requiem high mass celebrated by Monsignor Richard W. Power. He told of "Little Joe's" varied life as an athlete, educator, coach, youth worker, politician, and family man.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bobby Foster, a Washington, D.C., boxer who has scored 14 of his 17 wins by knockouts, will meet Norm Letcher of San Francisco in a 10-round light heavyweight fight Monday night, Nov. 23 at Kezar Pavilion.

Signing of the match was announced by Mario Spampinato, matchmaker for the National Boxing Club.

HE'LL PITCH AGAIN

Whitey Ford Tells Of Arm Operation

HOUSTON (AP) — "I pitched the first game of the Series," the ball player whispered, "and I knew something was seriously wrong.

"I had had troubles with my arm off and on for years — pulled tendons and so on.

"But this was different. I couldn't pitch at all. My arm would cramp." He pointed to his left forearm lying on hhe hospital bed. "I would lose all the strength in my arm.

"I tried again every day for five or six more days. I never could throw the ball. I would throw a few pitches, and it would cramp right away. It worried me because I was counting on being able to pitch a couple of times in the Series."

Whitey Ford doesn't have to worry now. The future's bright. His doctor says he'll be ready to pitch again by spring training.

The doctors the Yankee pitcher saw in New York knew there was some obstruction of the artery which carries blood over the shoulder and down toward the hand.

They sent him to one of the world's best known artery surgeons, Dr. Denton Cooley, a professor of surgery at Baylor University College of Medicine.

When Ford arrived Sunday at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where the surgery was performed Monday, the question couldn't leave his mind: Would they have to cut through muscles? Would he be unable to pitch?

"Sunday the doctor told me what he could do. They did it the easiest way."

Almost whispering in his soft New York accent, the southpaw ace said yesterday, "Most of the muscles you pitch with are here," indicating the front shoulder. "He cut under my armpit."

The operation was called a transthoracic sympathectomy. The doctor cut the nerves which supply the muscular coat of the artery that was disturbing circulation.

Those nerves had been causing the artery to constrict and produce spasms.

Speedy Count Wins On Muddy Track

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)— Speedy Count nipped Argo Kid by three-quarters of a length over a muddy track in the one-mile, $12,500 Fall Sophomore Trot at Hollywood Park yesterday. Speedy County, owned by Arthur Nardin, clocked 2 minutes 3¾ seconds and paid $3 and $2.60. Argo Kid paid $3.40. There was no show betting for the five-horse field.

'WORLD'S WORST GAME'

British Sports Expert Raps American Football

Independent-Journal Sports
Wed., Nov. 11, 1964 23

LONDON (AP) — A leading British sports columnist wrote yesterday that American football is "the world's worst game" and totally unsuitable for high schools and colleges.

J.L. Manning of The London Daily Mail made his comments in a dispatch from Chicago. He recorded the 37th death in American football this season—an Alabama high school footballer who died Monday.

Source of Manning's 37 fatalities this season is not known. Both The Associated Press and the National Football Coaches Association agree that the total is 24.

"I know it is the world's worst game because no country outside the United States will play it and I hope they never will," Manning wrote.

Manning is known as one of Britain's most outspoken sports writers. He has often attacked professional boxing as an inhumane sport.

He compared American football with British Rugby Union—a game played with 15 men on a side with a similar, egg-shaped ball though less pointed at the ends.

But, Manning added, American football is played "with a senseless crudeness without equal in any of the world's seven forms of football."

The article said the United States is the most sporting nation in the world

Then it added:

"Yet the fact remains that the country with the highest standard of living, which can afford to pay professional clubs and college teams $28,280,000 annually for televising this lethal game, tragically has the highest standard of dying in the world of sport.

"So American football is a sad affair on two counts. It has this frightening death and injury role among high school and college footballers and it is helping to isolate the greatest sports playing nation from the rest of the world." Soccer generally is regarded as the most universal of team sports.

Manning said that Rugby Union officials had banned the use of protective equipment in Britain and soccer legislators refused to allow substitutes for injured players.

"But in American football the development of armor and the wholesale use of substitutes—40 and 60 ready-dressed reserves on the sidelines are normal in professional and college games—have led to an increasing recklessness," Manning wrote.

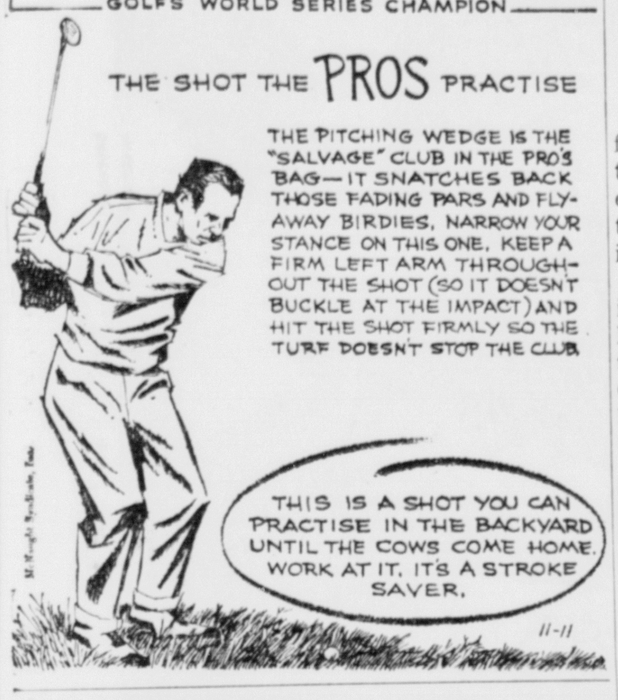
GOLF'S WORLD SERIES CHAMPION



ChiBear Receivers Nearing NFL Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Morris and Mike Ditka of the Chicago Bears are approaching a National Football League record for combined pass receptions, the latest statistics disclosed yesterday.

The two have a total of 123 receptions, Morris 68 and Ditka 55, to rank first and second in the circuit. With five games remaining, they are only three away from the record set in 1950 by three Los Angeles Rams, Tom Fears, who caught 84 and Glenn Davis and Elroy Hirsch, who snared 42 apiece.

Morris already has topped his previous career high of 58 passes caught in 1962.

Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton and Bobby Walden accounted for the only changes in the individual leaders. Tarkenton took over from Baltimore's Johnny Unitas as the top-rated passer while Walden replaced Detroit's Yale Lary as the punting leader. Walden has averaged 47.1 yards for 47 punts while Lary's average is 46.3 on 45 efforts.

Jimmy Brown of Cleveland continues to lead the ground gainers with 934 yards in 179 attempts. Jim Taylor of Green Bay is the runner-up with 726 yards followed by Don Perkins of the Dallas Cowboys, 697.

Baltimore's Lennie Moore remained the big man in the scoring competition with 84 points, four more than teammate Lou Michaels. Jim Bakken of St. Louis is third with 78.

Paul Krause of the Washington Redskins maintained his first place margin in interceptions with seven. Pat Fischler of St. Louis has six.

Jack Hanley

Public opinion, nothing else, forced major league baseball owners to do what they did during the weekend. They acted somewhat like chastised children, fearful of being punished.

Less than two weeks ago at a meeting in New York, the National League's hierarchy was all set to shift the Milwaukee franchise to Atlanta. Only a court injunction against the Milwaukee club forestalled the action.

The fact that the Braves' contract with Milwaukee County Stadium extends through 1965 was unimportant. After all, the Braves were prepared to pay the rent on the stadium through 1965 and other incidentals. As one of the Brave officials said: "It's just like firing a manager before his contract is up—you pay him off."

Well, the public didn't quite see it that way and the reaction prompted a second look by National League brass. Maybe the public doesn't appreciate all the legal niceties involved but it does appreciate the difference between a manager's contract and a city contract with a ball club.

SENSITIVE TO the public reaction, the National League brass met again in Phoenix and this time told the Braves to fulfill their contract with Milwaukee. But even in taking that belated action, the National League put its foot in its mouth, saying the Braves could move to Atlanta a year from now.

Such inept public relations certainly isn't going to help attendance in Milwaukee in 1965. What fan wants to root for a lame duck club? And Atlanta can't be happy about the expedient solution made under the pressure of public opinion.

IN FACT, Atlanta fans were shocked. So, too, were Atlanta city officials who had ordered a speed-up on the construction of an $18 million stadium to insure its completion by next April.

Arthur Montgomery, Atlanta civic leader, put his finger on the heart of the issue when he said rather sadly: "We knew the National League was deeply concerned with its public image but this comes as a real shock."

The Milwaukee mess was badly mishandled from start to finish. On 12 separate occasions this year, officials of the Braves baseball club, including the chairman of the board, stated unequivocally that the club would remain in Milwaukee. Then, as soon as the baseball season was over they disclosed their true intentions.

It wasn't exactly an honorable course of conduct and now they are going to pay for it by being forced to remain another year in a city that surely will have no love for the Braves.

COLLEGE STATISTICS

Cal's Morton Second In Passing Figures

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Rhome, Tulsa's tireless aerial wizard has strengthened his leads in total offense and forward passing among the nation's major-college football players.

The Hurricanes' star has boosted his totals to 2,252 yards in combined offense and to 2,062 yards passing, statistics released by the NCAA Service Bureau revealed Tuesday.

Rhome, against North Texas State this Saturday, will be seeking to break the single season rushing-passing mark set by Johnny Bright of Drake in 1950. Rhome needs only 149 more and his game average is 321.7 yards.

Gary Snook of Iowa is second in total offense with 1,804 yards followed by John Huarte, Notre Dame, 1,493; Craig Morton, California 1,441; and John Torok, Arizona State, 1,376.

Morton is runner-up to Rhome in passing with 143 completions to the Tulsa stalwart's 168. Snook is third with 130 and Tom LaFramboise of Louisville follows with 99.

King Crab Wins At Bay Meadows

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — King Crab covered the six furlongs in 1:13 over a muddy racing strip yesterday for an easy three-lengths victory in the featured Determine Purse event at Bay Meadows.

This is True ran a poor second and Glen Roy 2nd finished third.

King Crab was slow getting into his best stride, but pulled up strongly on the outside in the last quarter to top other contenders.

The speedy 3-year-old paid $9.40, $4.20 and $3.40 while This is True returned $4.20 and $3.00 and Glen Roy 2nd paid $4.60.

Upside-Down Cake An Old Favorite

If you want to surprise the family with some real old-fashioned goodness, bake up this wheat germ pineapple upside-down cake.

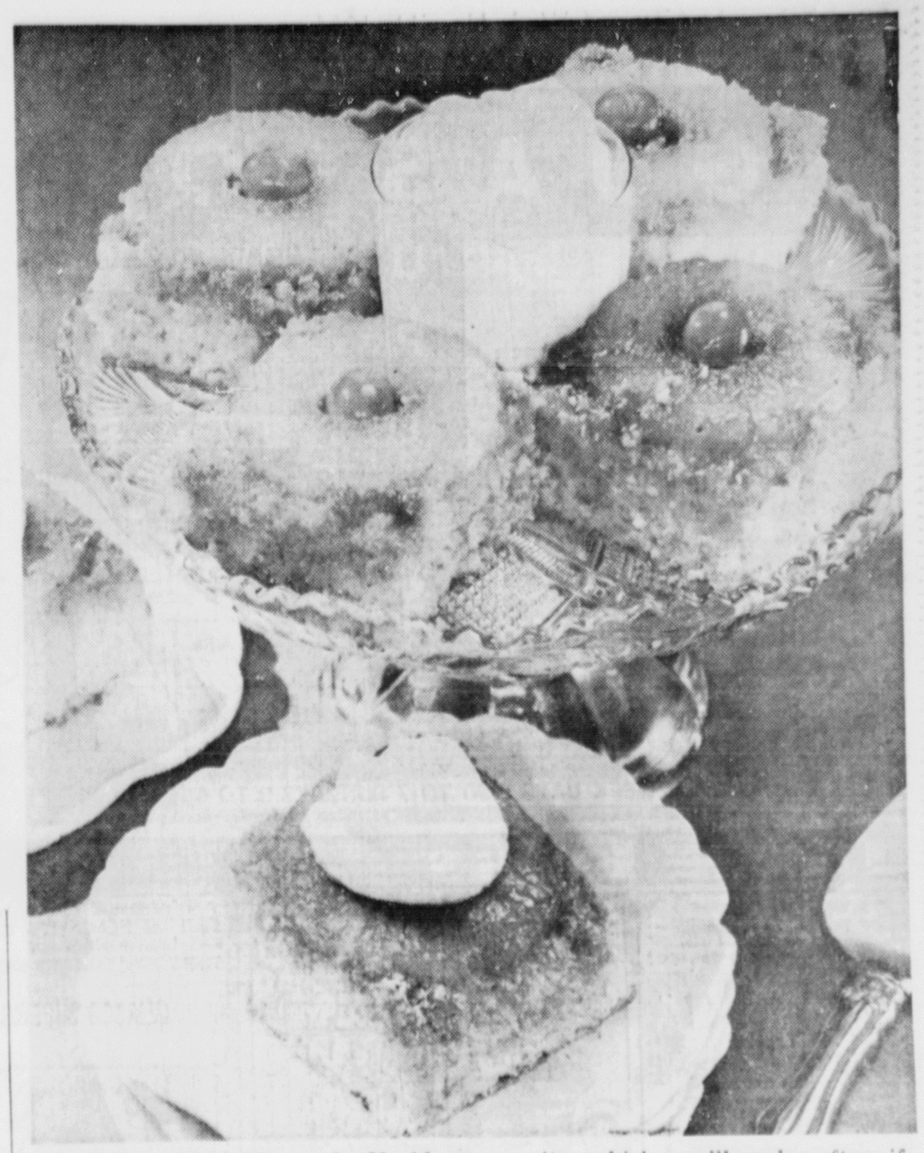
It's a real hearty cake, with the wheat germ contributing its good quality protein and its wealth of vitamins and minerals, but just as important, the cake is on the scrumptious side. The heartiness is delectably balanced by the candy-like topping of caramel over the pineapple slices and cherries.

This old-fashioned favorite can be served hot or cold, and with or without whipped cream. It's delicious any way.

WHEAT GERM PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

½ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
10 slices (No. 2 can) pineapple and syrup
10 maraschcino cherries, halved
½ cup wheat germ (divided)
Water
2 eggs
15 or 16-oz. pkg. white or yellow cake mix

Melt butter in 9x13-inch oblong pan. Add sugar. Cook over medium heat until bubbly. Remove from heat. Arrange pineapple slices and cherries on sugar mixture. Sprinkle with ¼ cup wheat germ. Add enough water to pineapple syrup to make the amount of liquid called for on the cake mix package. Add liquid and eggs to cake mix. Mix according to package directions. Stir in remaining ¼ cup wheat germ. Pour batter evenly over prepared fruit. Bake at 325° for 45-50 minutes. Loosen edges of cake. Invert pan onto serving plate immediately. Let stand 5 minutes before removing pan. Serve warm or cold, plain or with whipped cream. Yield: 12 servings.



WHEAT GERM Pineapple Upside-Down Cake is an old fashioned favorite, which you'll make often if you try this recipe.

Snappy Pumpkin Pie Cheers Post-Game Party Gathering

This fall football season, plan a post-game party around two tasty treats, Rich Mincemeat Pudding and Snappy Pumpkin Pie. Your guests will cheer the warm, buttery mincemeat pudding made with a graham cracker crumb base and topped with a heap of hard sauce or whipped cream. Ginger snaps provide a spicy crust for the no-bake Pumpkin Pie, filled will swirls of creamy chilled pumpkin. You make the pudding and pie this way:

RICH MINCEMEAT PUDDING

2 cups packaged graham cracker crumbs
⅓ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup melted butter or margarine
1 jar prepared mincemeat, 1 lb., 12-oz.
1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
¾ cup orange juice
Hardsauce or whipped cream

Mix crumbs with sugar, lemon rind and nutmeg; blend in melted butter. Using ¼ of crumb mixture, layer it over bottom of lightly buttered baking dish. Cover with ⅓ of mincemeat and sprinkle with ⅓ cup pecans. Repeat layers twice more. Top with remaining crumbs and drizzle with orange juice. Bake in 375°F oven for 25 minutes or until slightly firm to touch. Serve warm, top with hard sauce or whipped cream. Yield: 6-8 servings.

SNAPPY PUMPKIN PIE

1¼ cups fine ginger snap crumbs
3 tablespoons sugar
6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
12 whole ginger snaps
2 eggs, separated
1 cup light cream
1 cup canned pumpkin
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon allspice
¼ cup sugar

Crush ginger snaps into very fine crumbs, using rolling pin or blender. Blend in sugar and melted butter. Press mixture firmly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate. Form scalloped border with whole ginger snaps around edges. Refrigerate for 1 hour. Combine beaten egg yolks, cream and pumpkin in top of double boiler. Add gelatin, brown sugar, salt and allspice. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until gelatin is completely melted (about 10 minutes). Remove from heat and cool; stirring occasionally. Beat egg whites until almost stiff. Gradually add ¼ cup sugar, beat until very stiff. Fold into chilled pumpkin mixture, blending well. Turn into crumb crust, swirl top with rubber spatula and refrigerate until set. Yield: 6-8 servings.

A Cake From Norway

The recipe was submitted by Mrs. John M. Andersen of San Rafael.

JULEKAKA

1 cup seedless raisins
½ cup chopped candied citron
½ cup chopped candied cherries
1 Tbsps. flour
½ pound (2 sticks) butter or margarine, melted
2 cups granulated sugar
3 eggs
4 cups sifted all purpose flour
4 teasps. baking powder
1 teasp. ground cardamon
1 cup milk

Grease and flour two loaf pans 8½ x 4½ x 3. Sprinkle raisins, citron and cherries with 1 tbsps. flour; mix till coated and set aside. In large bowl mix butter and sugar; beat in eggs, one at a time. Sift together flour, baking powder and cardamon. To butter mixture, add sifted ingredients alternately with milk, beating well. Stir in reserved fruit mixture and pour into prepared pans. Bake in 300 degree oven about 1½ hours or till golden brown and center springs back when pressed lightly. Cool 10 minutes. remove from pan and cool on rack.

I-J Shopping Guide

You can shop with confidence when you buy nationally advertised brands. Here are a few that are being advertised this week, plus other timely hints.

ROYAL CROWN COLA: More for your money . . . it's like getting every third serving free. RC half-quarts cost the same as smaller king-size bottles, but give three servings, not two . . . The best buy in town.

Turkeys this year are bigger and there are more of them—good news for Thanksgiving and Christmas shoppers. U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, designating turkeys as a "November Plentiful Food", states they should be an attractive buy.

JOLLY TIME POP CORN: All the kernels pop; so you get a lot more pop corn easier, and this means so much when it is party time and every second counts, or when the children want to pop themselves a snack of their own.

Cranberries (to go with your turkey) are in abundant supply. Take advantage of these colorful berries while they're available. For fresh Cranberry Sauce, do this: pick over and wash 1 pound cranberries. Combine 2 cups sugar and 2 cups water; bring to boil, then add berries and cook until skins pop. Cool.

IDAHO POTATOES: Baked or fried—the flavor of real Idahos is grown in to stay from the rich Idaho volcanic soil, pure mountain water, and the right altitude. The words "Grown in Idaho" stand for quality.

Here in Marin, vegetables in plentiful supply are broccoli, celery, eggplant, lettuce, medium size dry yellow onions and tomatoes. Naturally, you have the full range of frozen vegetables too, to choose from.

SPECIAL OFFERS

DUZ: This special offer will save you 8c on one package of Premium Duz and you can use the box top to enter the Duz Fabulous Florida Fiesta Contest. Take the coupon in the ad to your favorite grocer.

VAN CAMP'S TAMALES: You are urged to try this delicious Tamales with Sauce with the 6c coupon in their advertisement. Your whole family will enjoy the choice lean beef, finely ground and rolled in a pure white cornmeal tortilla with the rich tangy sauce spiced with all the flavor of the original Mexican dish, but not too hot.

SANTA SHARES THE SPOTLIGHT

Santa Claus dressed in a purple suit shared the spotlight at the Officers' Wives Club luncheon and fashion show at Hamilton Air Force Base yesterday. The Officers Club, beautifully decorated for "The Holidays are in The Bag" was sponsored by the wives of the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, who also modeled, with Mrs. Wilbur Tapscott as general chairman. With Santa Claus are models, seated, from left, Mesdames Hubert Williams, Coleman Seller, guest model, and Richard Dehne and back row standing, Mesdames Douglas Alexander, Fred Kempf, Tapscott and Glen Straw.

Collections Jump With Knee Joints

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK—It's spring in the nation's number one garment center, and as the new fashion collections are shown, the joint is jumping—with knee joints.

Short skirts and the mannequins and buyers wearing the high hemlines are the reason. There are plump knees, skinny knees, knobby knees, baggy knees, knock-knees, and some knockout knees. But no matter what the type, all are on display.

THE WOMEN apparently have given up those efforts of a season or so ago, as the skirts got shorter, to tug hemline down after sitting. Now, if the knees show, so be it. Only a drastic drop in hemline lengths can change the scene, and they are not dropping. On the contrary, they're going higher for daytime.

Some of the designers feature hemlines two inches above the knees in their spring collections. None who's previewed for the nation's store purchasers and the press has dropped them a smidgin from fall's predominantly mid-kneecap length.

The knee show is just one of the "trends" behind the scenes as the ready-to-wear industry unveils what women will be be wearing in the Easter parade.

For instance, if the models coifs catch on, the American woman soon will be wearing hair short as some of the flapper cuts of the 1920s. French twists, curls (except for evening) are out.

The models predominantly prefer the short bob, rarely falling below the ear tips, parted low on one side and brushed across the forehead to conceal partially the brow.

Hair is perfectly straight. To show evening clothes, however, they'll occasionally add a false hairpiece for a high-piled result.

Out too, or at least relegated to the background in numbers, are blonde models. An unofficial count gives the brunette a five to one edge.

IN TOO, is a new way of walking for a few of the models. A few—notably one at the Maurice Renter show—stood straight and stride as if they were free-swinging along a country lane. Still with us also is the dead-pan model. As designer-manufacturer Oleg Cassini commented at his show — "it's chic not to smile."

Other trends in with the showroom habitues:

—The three-strand of pearls falling halfway to the waist, replacing the shorter necklaces. The jangle of charm bracelets.

—The outsize handbag, although the giants seem to have shrunk since last season.

—Coming in, the textured and patterned stockings instead of the see-through sheers. Well established now are the low heeled pumps instead of spikes for day.

—The basic black costume. Showrooms blaze with bright Colors and some persons, with unlimited money for cleaning bills, dare the white and off-white coats and suits.

—THE TERM "discotheque" dress, the sheer little black frocks that the industry heavily promoted last spring for dancing in the night spots featuring music by record.

Marinites Among Starlight Ball Sponsors

By MOLLY MARIN

A large number of Marin couples will be on hand for the Starlight Ball at the Peacock Court of the Mark Hopkins Hotel on Saturday, sponsored by the St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary. In the group will be ball sponsors, Drs. and Mesdames George T. Burkett, of San Rafael, Edmund Mahon of Mill Valley, Emil D. Torre of Kentfield and Emmet L. Rixford and Lionel T. Barneson of Sausalito.

Ball guests will also include Mill Valleyans Dr. and Mrs. Henning Bauer and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Felder; Dr. and Mrs. John Cann and the Jack Podestas of San Anselmo; the John J. Egans of Greenbrae; Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Wiper of Sausalito and, from Kentfield, Messrs. and Mesdames C. R. Bricca Jr., Russell J. Merret and Gregory Smith.

A COCKTAIL PARTY on Saturday honored Dr. and Mrs. William Dawson, long time San Rafael residents who have recently sold their Country Club Tract home and moved into a new apartment on Sacramento Street in San Francisco. Hosts to the group of Marinites were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Crawford at their home in Ross.

A SERIES OF pre-nuptial festivities are being given for Naomi Cole, who will become the bride of Robert Hotle Jr. of Piedmont on Nov. 28 at St. John's Church in Ross. Mrs. Charles Murray and Mrs. William Hoxie were hostesses for a shower and luncheon, attended by mothers and daughters who are friends of Naomi and her mother, Mrs. Robert Cole of Ross. On Saturday night a cocktail party honored the couple at the Piedmont home of Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hotle. A kitchen shower will be given Saturday for Naomi in Piedmont by Mrs. William Smith and other friends, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wallis will give a dinner for the couple Nov. 20 at their Piedmont home.

HAWAIIAN TRAVELERS include the Clyde J. Curleys of San Anselmo, who will sail aboard the Lurline from Los Angeles on Friday and the Everett A. Iversens of San Rafael who have been vacationing at Waikiki and on Kauai. They are returning to their Pigeon Hollow Road home this week.

Past Presidents Plan Luncheon

Past presidents of St. Sebastian's Women's Club will be hostesses at a luncheon on Tuesday in the parish hall of the church.

A social hour will be held at 11:30 p.m., followed by the luncheon.

Mrs. George Stempel and Mrs. C. Stanley Lawrence are chairmen of the event, assisted by Kenneth Larkins, food chairman, and Mesdames Alfred Ruggiero, David Sullivan and Raymond Rovero, entertainment.

Mrs. Roy Pasqualetti of Kentfield and Mrs. Stemple are in charge of reservations.

Bonnie Bain Will Marry Robert Duane Patterson

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bain Jr. of Terra Linda have announced the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Susan, to Robert Duane Patterson of Stinson Beach.

Robert is the son of Mrs. Roberta Patterson of Stinson Beach and the late Mr. Patterson and the brother of Shelby Lynn Smith and Pamela Kate Patterson, both of Stinson Beach and John Robert Patterson Jr., now serving with the U.S. Merchant Marines.

Bonnie is the sister of Brian William Bain, who is attending the California Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo. She has attended Terra Linda High School, College of Marin and is also presently enrolled at the California Polytechnic College.

The future bridegroom was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is presently attending the College of Marin. He is the grandson of Kate Schooley Evans of Stinson Beach.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Home Sewing Course Is Offered

Making clothes for yourself or members of your family can be a wise investment. Home sewing gives you a chance to be creative, save money, and have smart looking clothes.

For help in your at-home sewing program, you may follow instructions in a correspondence course from The Pennsylvania State University. The Making a Dress course explains lines, colors, and fabric designs that are best suited to your figure type and personality.

The course has a comprehensive coverage of sewing techniques and fitting problems. It also includes information on new fabric finishes; how to alter a commercial pattern before cutting into the fabric; and how to use your sewing machine for some of the hand sewing.

Whether you're a beginner or experienced in home sewing, your garments can have that professional look when you follow directions for finishing seams, hems, and buttonholes.

To get the complete sewing course, send your name and address with $1.75 to Correspondence Courses, 202 Agricultural Education Building, University Park, Penn.

What's New In Home Economics Classes?

Well, there's Archimedes' principle, Ohm's law and photometric analysis, among other things — or at least there should be, says Prof. Florence Ehrenkranz of the University of Minnesota's School of Home Economics.

PROF. EHRENKRANZ' concept of home economics is a far cry from the traditional preparation in nutrition, baby-care and family budgets.

She believes home ec students "need a background in physics — not a lip-service appreciation of the scientific method, but an understanding of the principles of physical science."

This, she says, requires foundation work in college algebra and calculus, and "a course in statistics would be advantageous, although not essential."

In a paper prepared for the annual meeting of the Assn. of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, Prof. Ehrenkranz made these further points:

— A STUDY of mechanics "introduces concepts of force, energy, power, and mechanical efficiency, all having significance for various household appliances and relating to physical work in the home."

— Understanding of fundamental particles, atomic structure and nuclear reactions is essential in such areas as household equipment, nutrition and food preservation.

— Some knowledge of the physics of sound is essential for the home economist interested in the potential use of utrasonics to clean clothes and dishes.

— The principles of heat and thermometry relates to food refrigeration, cooking, and the treatment of textiles.

— Need for some understanding of electricity is obvious because of many electrical appliances found in the home.

Smokers Ahead Of Reweavers

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (UPI) — American smokers are burning holes in their clothes faster than people can be trained to reweave them.

The national shortage of skilled reweavers was cited by Morton Mallin, founder and director of the Eastern School of Reweaving in Hempstead.

He estimated that there are only about 2,000 qualified reweavers in the United States who make their services available to the public. Several hundred more are capable but make repairs only for friends or relatives.

Cigarette and cigar burns, plus moth damage, account for more than 60 per cent of the work brought to reweavers.

The families of Mallin and his wife Gloria, were reweavers for generations. She assists him in grading the work of students who require a great deal of practice.

"Theory is fine," he said, "but experience is more important."

New Field Director Named

Mrs. H. N. Richards, Marin County Camp Fire section director, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Joseph Chenoweth of Sausalito as new field director for the Novato and Redwood districts. Her office is in the Camp Fire building, San Rafael.

Connie Chenoweth, a native of Michigan, was graduated from Kalamazoo College with majors in biology and sociology. She worked for YWCA as program director in Billings, Mont. for two years. Before moving to Marin, the Chenoweths lived for a year in Los Angeles, where Connie worked for the YWCA.

MRS. JOSEPH CHENOWETH

President With Many Interests

Mrs. S. C. Stapp — known to everyone as Sally — who is the new president of the Sausalito Yacht Club Women's Auxiliary, says she is "Just a home body," but she has a great many interests.

Dogs, she confesses, hold top favor at the moment, for she has a bedlington terrier named "Miss Cricket" who has won top honors in many shows, including four trophies and five ribbons in the recent Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club show.

Her family and home, gardening, horses, boats and bridge are her other interests, and she loves to entertain.

Sally has been a member of the yacht club four years and served on the board last year. She says her objectives this year for the Auxiliary, which is composed of women club members and wives, will be "To see that everyone gets acquainted and has a good time as well as the opportunity to help raise funds for the club's various needs."

Other organizations in which the new president is active are the Sausalito Woman's Club, for which she has been a president and board member and Pro America and the Sausalito Salvage Shop, for which she has served as board member.

She was a president of the League of Women Voters of Sausalito and has been very active in the Republican Party and Christ Church.

MRS. S. C. STAPP

Sally has lived in Sausalito since the end of World War II. She has two sons, Dr. Henry Stapp of Berkeley and Dr. William Stapp of Ann Arbor, Mich., who has three children of whom she is very proud as grandmother.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Sally was graduated from the Hathaway-Brown School for Girls there and from Pine Manor in Wellesley, Mass.

She attended the Roger Babson School of Finance, and although she does not work at the business, she has her investment broker's and securities license.

For five years she was in charge of children's promotional work at Halle Brothers in Cleveland.

Other new officers of the auxiliary, who will be installed with Mrs. Stapp on Nov. 18, are Mesdames Guy Dowden, vice president; Donald Anderson, secretary; Ernest Perry, treasurer; and Harold Rogers, Van Sargent, John Steele and Keith Thomson, directors.

Zettia Miller To Wed In December Ceremony

Announcement of the engagement of Zettia Louise Miller of Fairfax to Karl E. Graupner of San Anselmo has been made by her mother, Mrs. Stanley Miller of Fairfax.

Zettia is the daughter of the late Mr. Miller and the sister of Mrs. Warren G. Ward of Bellflower, Stanley E. Miller of Garden Grove, Dr. Charles S. Miller of Los Alamitos and David H. Miller of Fairfax.

She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed as a dental assistant in San Anselmo.

Karl, the son of Mrs. Everett Thompson of San Francisco and A. E. Graupner Jr. of Berkley, was also graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and California Polytechnic College. He is co-owner of Harry D. Grant Stores, Inc., in San Francisco.

Karl is the brother of Wendy Graupner of Piedmont.

A Dec. 5 wedding at Swedenborgian Church in San Francisco is planned after which the couple will reside in San Anselmo.

Study Shows Intellectuals Work Alone

NEW YORK (UPI) — A study of 342 persons with "high intellectual capability" shows that 70 per cent of them took jobs "which gave them freedom to work alone or power to individually lead and dominate others."

The study, conducted by seven Columbia University researchers and published as a book, "Talent and Performance," was conducted among persons who had received fellowships at Columbia for post-graduate or professional training 15 years ago.

"It's an important finding because it indicates how very large the search for self-determination, self-expression and autonomy looms in the talented people's plans for their life work."

The study also showed that those who did well in college did not necessarily do well later in life.

Another finding was that the most successful persons in the group married early and those who "had difficulty launching their careers . . . tended to marry late. Single men were not conspicuous among those in the top achievement level."

Among the conclusions reached by the researchers:

—"No individual who has the capacity and desire to proceed with his education should be blocked by lack of funds."

—A high level of employment in the outside world encouraged the students to pursue their education to the Ph.D. and "the conservation of talent truly depends upon minimum unemployment."

Five Top Italian Designers To Desert Florence Opening

Princess Irene Galitzine, Forquet, Lancetti, Valentino and Patrick de Barentzen all say they will show in their own Rome salons in January, when spring and summer fashions will be unveiled. They say the Florence collective showings are no longer convenient or profitable.

THEIR DECISION could be a decisive blow to the shows in Florence, where Italian couture houses began their postwar rise to prominence.

For years, Rome and Florence have battled for Italian fashion leadership. Until now, Florence has had the winning team. Italian fashion started there when exporter G. B. Giorgini first convinced leading dressmakers and tailors to stop copying Paris and do something of their own.

BUT ROME IS home for most of the Italian couture houses.

Pinafores Set Celebration At Terra Linda Hospital

The Terra Linda Valley Hospital Volunteers "The Pinafores" are celebrating their first anniversary with a membership tea, to be held at the Terra Linda Valley Hospital Nov. 17, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Succeeding Mrs. Robert Pool as president of "The Pinafores" is Mrs. William Schoenfeld. Mrs. Pool's resignation was influenced by illness.

Mrs. Schoenfeld moved to Terra Linda from Southern California just before the hospital opened and immediately offered services to the hospital as a volunteer. Before moving to Southern California, she lived in San Anselmo, and was active in Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Marie Elizabeth Grbac of Tiburon to James Allan McClure of Mill Valley has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mate Grbac of Tiburon.

Easy Christmas Shopping Is Lutheran Bazaar Theme

"Christmas Shopping the Easy Way" will be the theme of the shopping day bazaar to be held on Nov. 18 at the parish hall of Peace Lutheran Church, Mill Valley.

Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. All proceeds will go to the Good Shepherd Lutheran Home for Retarded Children in Terra Bella, Calif.

Sale chairman is Mrs. Arthur Petersen. Committees handling booths or services are Mesdames Petersen, Arnold Deckman, W. F. Reece and Stanley Scott, sewing guide Christmas decorations; Robert Goethe and Norman Macfee, advertising; Carl Ebbesen, mothers guild; Russell Brown, Norman Macfee and Ida L. McIntosh, homemade baked goods; Arthur Lind and Leland Rosevear, books and stationery; Carl Ebbesen, gift wrapping; needle nook booth, Laura Forsythe, and James Kerrigan and Miss Bernice Kerrigan, white elephants.

Luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Harold Johnson as chairman, assisted by Mesdames John Castleman, John Wilbert, Robert Goethe, Rudy Larson and James N. Kerrigan. Mrs. Marvin Kline will be assisted with the dining room by Mesdames George Bjerklie and Herman Grunau.

Mrs. Harvey Lejeune will staff a booth to recruit new Good Shepherd Auxiliary members or renew memberships.

Superstition Is Dinner's Theme

The theme of the party will be in keeping with the Friday the 13th date: come as your favorite superstition or lucky charm.

Friends Sponsor Salad, Luncheon

Redwood Friends are sponsoring a salad bowl and hot luncheon bazaar from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Masonic Hall in San Rafael.

Mrs. James D. Ellis, chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Charles Walker and Hazel Hines.

Cushioned Chairs Are Now In Vogue

Dining room chairs, originally the prerogative of royalty, are once again in high regard. Backs are taller, upholstery more in evidence and on the increase, with softly cushioned seats often of luxurious foam rubber. Even the arms may be upholstered.

Wing chairs appear at the dining room table, achieving the coveted "manor house" look. The dining room chair, which has always been a testing ground for good design and the best time-proven solution for table seating, gains a new stature with its well upholstered look of solid comfort.

Rainy Cottons

Rain-worthy coats include cottons ranging from corduroy, velveteen, poplin, twill and ottoman, to the newest cotton of all — a leather look-alike that's a dead ringer for the real thing.

Marie Grbac Will Marry In February

A tentative February wedding has been set by Marie Elizabeth Grbac of Tiburon and James Allan McClure of Mill Valley. The engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mate Grbac of Tiburon.

Marie, the sister of John Grbac and Mrs. Ray Chambers, both of Tiburon, was graduated from Redwood High School.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McClure of Mill Valley and the brother of Ronald, Clifford and Patrick McClure and Lynn Gosser, all of Mill Valley. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shull and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Meyer, all of Mill Valley.

The future bridegroom was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is employed with National Auto Parts.

Patterned Look Is Flexible Design

Cushier-than-ever cushioning with built-in latex foam rubber comfort is flattered by exciting new upholstery fabrics abounding in vibrant colors. There is a new importance in the patterned look that takes to coordinated fabric groupings carefully planned to suit both traditional and contemporary furniture. This new flexibility of design preempts monotony and brings an undeniably fresh look to decor.

We put these IDEAS into ACTION to bring you a better newspaper

It's been quite a year for innovations in the I-J. Some are large, some are small, but all have meaning for you as a reader. They started as ideas and ended up as a reality in print—new advances which advance your information and reading enjoyment. For example:

In February, the I-J added a complete daily BUSINESS & FINANCE PAGE . . . including 500 New York stock listings which offer readers a special advantage—today's closing prices today.

We increased our coverage of both local and national news. And set it in a brand new type face for easier reading.

To bring you a man-sized SPORTS SECTION, we added the complete Associated Press SPORTS WIRE . . . with world-wide coverage coming in 22 hours a day.

On October 3, another ambitious step: the complete New York stock list showing the full weekly range . . . a new feature now running each Saturday.

To handle this extra news load the I-J invested in still more electronic equipment which actually sets type from tape—a major advance in newspaper publication.

We had still other ideas: why not more color photography in both regular and special editions? Why not experiment with color inks for better printing? We're doing it . . .

And with more news has come more advertising, more features . . . a weightier newspaper, both in content and number of pages.

The best idea, though, is to KEEP ON BRINGING YOU A BETTER NEWSPAPER. We keep that at the top of the list.

STENSTROM BUICK

"Executive Car"

'64 Skylark

Here's an almost new 4-Dr. hardtop Special Skylark that we've used during the year here at the company. It's a car that would sell new for approximately $3500 but we've reduced this car to $2850.

It's never been registered—thus you would be the first owner of record which entitles you to the full General Motors new car guarantee of two years or 24,000 miles.

Savings, Loan Decision Due Next January

Two competing savings and loan firms applying to establish branches in the Northgate Shopping Center will have to wait until January for a referee's final decision.

A joint hearing at the State Division of Savings and Loan in San Francisco Monday which considered testimony applying to both Pioneer Investors Savings and Loan Assn. and First Savings and Loan Assn. ended in a draw after seven hours of testimony.

Each of the principals objected to the other, and three other firms submitted objections to both of them. Novato Savings and Loan Assn., Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Assn. all contended that the existing market is being adequately served.

Citizens Federal already has an office in Northgate.

Saul Perlis, who heard the testimony, said he will make his recommendations to State Savings and Loan Commissioner Frederick E. Balderston, who has the final word. The time lapse between the hearing and decision is usually about 60 days, he said.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Winter increases traffic problems, accidents, injuries, and death. Rain, snow, and ice add to the hazards of driving. More people go to and return from work in the dark because the days are shorter. The implications are obvious but it is surprising how many people disregard these weather conditions.

Accident records show that drivers do not slow up for rain unless it is coming down in sheets. It is common knowledge that braking distance increases two to four times when traveling at 30 miles per hour. Snow makes conditions worse.

PEDESTRIANS also are vulnerable. Slippery sidewalks make the number of fractures mount. Many are hit by automobiles when crossing the street at dusk. Everyone is in a hurry to get home after 5 p.m. Pedestrians take chances when crossing the street against the light, not realizing that drivers cannot see as well at dusk or when it is raining or snowing.

Motor vehicles kill and injure more persons between 15 and 24 years of age than does illness. The incidence of diabetes and heart disease is low in this age group but we can assume that drinking and psychiatric disturbances are factors in traffic casualties. What a loss of potential productivity this represents.

WE CAN EXPECT to hear more about unfit adult drivers in the future. These men and women have defects that make them a source of danger to the public.

For years we have stressed driver safety because of the 40,000 persons killed annually in auto mishaps. More have died in this way than from all America's wars. Accidents are the third ranking cause of death. If a disease were responsible for this many fatalities we would have some kind of a national fund raising society with hundreds of local chapters working to find a remedy.

Death is final, regardless of how it happens. Injuries lead to more cases of paralysis than does polio and more limbs are lost in this way than from infections, diabetes, and poor circulation.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

TINY PINKIES

G. M. writes: Both my pinkies are very small. Is there any way I can lengthen them? I'm 23 years old.

REPLY

Let the nails grow and it will create the illusion of having longer fingers. At your age, more important things should occupy your mind.

NEURITIS FROM ALCOHOL

O. L. writes: My husband is being treated for neuritis caused by heavy drinking. Is cure possible, now that he is on the wagon?

REPLY

INNER EAR DISORDERS

G. G. writes: Is labyrinthitis the same condition as Meniere's disease?

REPLY

Yes, in general. Meniere's syndrome leads to dizziness, ear ringing, and deafness. Some develop nausea and vomiting.

SPINAL FLUID TEST

J. M. writes: What are spinal taps done for?

REPLY

To obtain spinal fluid for laboratory analysis. This is done to help in diagnosing a variety of brain and spinal cord infections, tumors, or injuries.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Look At Two Chinas, Rome Visit Slated

By RICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—This week may be the one to remember in the current television season.

Already the dismal new video year has been buoyed a bit in the past several days by the debuts of two new shows that promise some substance and bite: Sunday's "Profiles in Courage," based on John F. Kennedy's book, and the nightly late-hour Les Crane program, which bowed in Monday.

Tomorrow night, meanwhile, ABC-TV offers an hour tour of Rome with Sophia Loren, and the program will include an appearance by Marcello Mastrioianni, probably the world's foremost movie actor.

Miss Loren's tour has been produced by the same fellows who gave us "Elizabeth Taylor in London" last season, Norman Baer and Phil d'Antoni.

Friday there are two specials that are noteworthy even if they do not live up to their potential. One of the shows, on NBC-TV, has Danny Thomas starring in the first of five specials he will do this season. He is joined on this first outing by Dick Van Dyke and Juliet Prowse.

The second Friday special appears in the time slot of CBS-TV's "The Entertainers," and is an hour-long entertainment documentary entitled "The Beatles in America," narrated by Carol Burnett.

Saturday the nation's top-rated college football team, Notre Dame, is seen coast-to-coast on NBC-TV in a big game with Michigan State. Next Tuesday, NBC-TV will present its long-awaited hour colorcast, "The Louvre."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Nelson Rockefeller, George Romney and Charles Percy are scheduled to discuss the future of the Republican Party on NBC-TV's "Sunday" program this weekend . . . Also Sunday, Henry Cabot Lodge is interviewed on the same network's "Meet the Press."

NBC-TV's new "Daniel Boone" series was renewed for the remainder of the season. . . . ABC-TV's "Peyton Place" was optioned for 26 more episodes in addition to the original 52. . . . But NBC-TV's "90 Bristol Court," which is three situation comedies in a 90-minute framework, has problems. . . . Two of the shows, "Harris Against the World" and "Tom, Dick and Mary," are not expected to be around much longer.

Janice Rule, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and Zohra Lampert star on CBS-TV's "The Reporter" Nov. 20 in a story of a famous, neurotic Hollywood actress. . . . ABC-TV is disturbed and puzzled at the slipping ratings of "The Hollywood Palace."

Associate Justice Arthur Goldberg of the U.S. Supreme Court will be interviewed on NBC-TV's "Eternal Light" Sunday. . . .

Graduated Tax Withholding Rate Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration is expected to ask Congress for a graduated income tax withholding rate next spring if there are too many protests by taxpayers over larger-than-usual tax bills.

Last March, when the new tax cut law went into effect, the withholding rate was reduced from 18 to 14 per cent. Some months ago the Internal Revenue Service advised that this might leave many taxpayers—especially those in the $5,000-$15,000 bracket—with additional taxes to pay next spring.

Treasury sources said a protest from taxpayers who have to pay additional taxes in the spring would be balanced against possible complaints from employers over the additional

Court Grants NWP Stay On Tunnel

The California Supreme Court yesterday granted Northwestern Pacific Railroad a stay of a Public Utilities Commission order that the railroad rebuild the burned-out Puerto Suello Tunnel.

The PUC ordered on Sept. 22 that the railroad start rebuilding the tunnel by Nov. 13 and complete the work within 150 days.

Yesterday's action by the court means that the deadline date will be postponed while the court deliberates and rules on the PUC order.

Attorney Boris H. Lakista, who has represented San Rafael and other clients interested in reopening of the tunnel during several court and commission hearings, said today that he expected the PUC order to be delayed about three months because of the court's stay.

The tunnel was closed by fire on July 22, 1961. The railroad's bid to abandon the tunnel was denied by the Interstate Commerce Commission. But the railroad appealed that decision and now has the case before the United States Supreme Court.

Polk's Directory To Begin Survey

Representatives of R. L. Polk and Co., publishers of Polk's San Rafael city directory, will begin their annual survey of householders in San Rafael, Fairfax, Kentfield, Ross and San Anselmo next week.

Information provided the surveyors will appear in the 1965 edition of the directory.

Outside Jobs Policy Voted By Supervisors

Marin County supervisors yesterday adopted a new policy limiting outside jobs of county employees, over the protest of the Marin County Employees Assn.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said the board was not "closing the door" on outside employment, but setting standards.

Directors of the Marin County Employees Assn. said in a letter to the board that the present ordinance covering outside employment is sufficient. "There will be an invasion of the private lives of Marin County employees" if supervisors follow the recommendations of Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott, the letter declared.

Permanent jobs or jobs of indefinite duration—No more than four hours on a county work day, eight within a county five-day work week, or 16 hours within any seven-day period. Temporary or seasonal jobs, not exceeding 31 calendar days—Not more than 20 hours a week.

The policy provides that the board can waive the limits in exceptional circumstances.

Chairman William A. Gnoss said the board will be fair and will consider "real hardship cases."

Leydecker said the question is not the number of hours involved but whether an employee's effectiveness will suffer because of outside work.

Marinite Given Law School Boost

Gary T. Giacomini of 801 Point San Pedro Road, San Rafael, has received a $500 scholarship during his third year at University of California's Hasting College of Law in San Francisco.

Tour Of S. Vietnam Termed Frustration

By GILES BIXLER

"Frustration is the one word for that tour of duty," said an Army major from San Rafael who has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in South Vietnam.

"We're trained to win," said Maj. Harlan W. Lohmann of 17 Glenaire Drive, "and we get frustrated because we just can't seem to do it there.

"I've got no axe to grind, but sometimes when you hear about a friend being killed, you feel we should go in there and clean things up."

HARLAN W. LOHMANN

The major is a big, rugged signals officer who spent 11 months in South Vietnam running a platoon, and later a company, of men flying supplies into front-line areas in one-engine Otter aircraft.

When he returned to the United States and his present post at the Presidio of San Francisco last May his view became tempered somewhat by the political considerations involved in South Vietnam.

"We've made mistakes, everyone knows, but that's history," said Major Lohmann, who says he was in Vietnam "to do a job, not be an expert on the local politics.

"My own idea is to give every village portable battery-operated television sets and educate the people," said the major, only half joking. "We need to create a little nationalism. Who are we to these people? They don't know about the next village sometimes, let alone national or international affairs."

Major Lohmann's Bronze Star was for shaping a group of officers and men, many of them with little experience, into an efficient operational unit while still maintaining supply lines over hostile territory.

Lohmann left for Vietnam in June 1963 as a captain heading a platoon of Otter crews and joined the 18th Aviation Company. In December he was promoted to major. In January this year he took over a company with 14 brand new warrant officers and three new platoon commanders.

To quote the citation: "Through extensive planning coordination and leadership ability he (Major Lohmann) was able to bring his unit through the annual general inspection with the highest score it had ever achieved while at the same time maintaining an exceptionally high level of aviation support of the ground forces."

Two kind of groups were supplied by the company: the special forces units, sometimes working undercover in the 'strategic hamlets" which the army is trying to set up in areas plagued by Viet Cong attacks, and the military advisor's groups.

"The main thing to teach a new officer was how to avoid the areas where the Viet Cong were likely to be waiting, especially around landing strips," said the major.

"It was cloudy and we were flying at about 500 feet. All of a sudden I noticed this clicking noise in the plane. I asked the engineer to look. Then one hit the cockpit and I pulled up through the cloud cover, fast."

The major and his wife, Dorothy, have three children, John, 10, Carol, 9, and James, 6. He joined the army in 1946 at the age of 18 and has served in Korea, Okinawa, and West Germany.

Pupil Transfers Are Approved

Three inter-district agreements were approved Monday by Mill Valley School District trustees which will enable one Manzanita School pupil at Marin City to attend a Mill Valley school and two Mill Valley pupils to attend schools in the Sausalito School District.

Following approval for the latter two students by Sausalito trustees, there will be five Mill Valley pupils attending Sausalito schools and three Marin City pupils attending Mill Valley schools.

The agreements came about following requests of Mill Valley parents to try to assist in reducing "de facto" segregation at Marin City, an area which is predominantly Negro.

After-Hours Patron Tries Key On Door

Rick Donley, employee, said that shortly after closing he saw a young man trying to enter the front door by use of a key. Shortly afterward, the same thing was tried at the rear door. When police arrived, the man had disappeared.

Woodside Doctor Injured In Crash

A Woodside doctor suffered minor injuries when his southbound car was hit from the rear by that of Malcom D. Horton, 40, of 30 Graceland Drive, San Rafael, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday on Waldo Grade of Highway 101.

Planning to seek private care, according to the California Highway Patrol, was Dr. Blaise B. de Bibo, 48, who suffered back pains after the crash.

SQUIRT! TROUBLES OVER

Mailmen Can Now Walk Fearing No Man's Dog

San Rafael mailmen will soon be carrying a new weapon that is expected to make their job easier and cut out much of the tension.

It is an air bomb called "Halt." A press of a finger will send out a vapor scented with cayenne pepper. It is something dogs will retreat from hurriedly.

San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams said today that he has ordered enough bombs to equip all carriers in the San Rafael area. They should arrive in about 10 days, he said.

Williams said dogs are a "pesky" problem to the mailmen. Attacks and bites seem to run in cycles, he said. Sometimes two or three mailmen will be bitten in one week, then there will be no bites for two or three weeks.

"Fortunately, we had not yet had any serious attacks," Williams said.

The vapor contained in the bombs does no permanent harm to animals. However, it is reportedly a very effective dissuader.

Theaters Show Marin Artists

Paintings by two Marin artists are now on exhibit in the lobbies of the Lark and Fairfax Theaters and will remain there through November.

Theodore Zemke, formerly of Dresden, Germany, and now a resident of San Anselmo, is exhibiting at the Fairfax Theater. Paintings by Louis Dessauer of Ross are on display at the Lark in Larkspur.

The Fairfax Theater will close Nov. 29 and re-open Dec. 25, according to manager Hazel Nelson.

Baptist Chapel Choir Sets Concert Tour

The choir, directed by Carlyle D. Bennet, will give concerts in Oregon, Washington, California and British Columbia from Nov. 23 to Nov. 29.

Idaho bakers

Baked or fried, the flavor of real Idahos is grown in to stay—grown in Idaho where rich volcanic soils, pure mountain water, and the right altitude do great things for potato flavor. You may prefer the convenience of prepared Frozen Idahos for frying. Fresh or frozen, the words "Grown in Idaho" stand for quality. Try some . . . fry some real Idahos soon.

Redwoods Park Idea May Conceal A Pandora's Box

The idea of a great Redwoods National Park stretching across Del Norte and Humboldt Counties—assuring the preservation of nearly twice the presently insufficient acreage of all virgin redwood forests now embraced in state parks—captures the imagination.

The National Park Service has long since proven its ability to get maximum use of great natural wonders—measured in numbers of people able to visit and enjoy them—while still preserving the areas in their near-natural state.

The history of redwood state parks is sadly in contrast. Take Jedediah Smith State Park in Del Norte County, for instance. In some 8,000 or more acres of park area, there are less than four-score individual camp sites.

This means that many families who come with camping gear to enjoy a vacation in our redwoods find nothing but "no vacancy" signs in our State Park campgrounds. It is tragic. Before California's population explosion is over, it will get far worse.

But there is another side to the problem that gives concern.

In all of Del Norte County, for instance, there are scarcely 15,000 people. Only about one quarter of their total land area remains on the tax rolls; all the rest is in public ownership, in state parks and national forests.

The tax base for the County of Del Norte—supporting its schools, its hospital, its other essential services—is squeezed tight.

To cut into it further by taking more acreage into public ownership, and off the tax rolls, could be disastrous for those people up there.

But how about the fellow whose very livelihood depends on the continuation of his employment in a forest product industry?

And how about the taxpayer who remains to bear the burden AFTER forest and industry tax bases have been taken away?

Is not he, too, entitled to protection?

Cat-Tails And Blackbirds

Cat-tails and Redwing Blackbirds seem to go together. Both thrive in the marshy places of Marin County. We on the Pacific Coast are lucky to have a special breed of Redwing, which has an added touch of white on its wings.

The male is the one with the flashy uniform. His wife is a drab brown little thing. She lays from three to five eggs in a nest of coarse grasses which is usually attached to reeds or low bushes.

They consume weed seeds, grain, insects and fruits. They are a friendly, good-looking bird, but are regarded as something of a nuisance in the rice-growing regions of the state.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Constitutional Revisionists Busy Drafting Initiative Law Changes

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—First move involving tampering with the initiative process in California has been made by the Constitutional Revision Commission.

The commission, meeting in the State Capitol with the Joint Committee on Legislative Organization, recommended a substantive change in the method of submitting initiatives to voters. The recommendation was part of a series pointing up the work the commission has done for the past several months on revising the constitution.

Under the recommendation, the commission says:

"A NEW PROCEDURE for amending the constitution by initiative petition is established.

"An initiative constitutional amendment, as distinguished from a statutory initiative, once qualified for the ballot with sufficient signatures, would be submitted to the legislature before being voted on by the people.

"The legislature would be required to approve or reject the proposed amendment within sixty days. Inaction by the legislature would be regarded as rejection of the measure.

"WHATEVER ACTION the legislature took on the proposal would be recorded in the ballot title. Regardless of the action taken, however, the legislature would have no power to prevent the initiative constitutional amendment from being submitted to a vote of the electorate.

"The purpose of this change is to encourage potential proponents of initiative measures to utilize initiative statutes instead of constitutional amendments. It would be entirely inaccurate to describe the proposed initiative constitutional amendment procedure as a 'hurdle' or a restriction on the initiative process."

The commission also proposes that the legislature meet annually for sessions of 120 days; be a continuous body with legislation holding over from one session to the next, and that sessions called by the governor be open to any subject rather than to restricted calls by the chief executive.

EXTENSION OF civil service coverage to many of the positions now filled by the governor on a non-civil service basis, such as the State Disaster Office, was suggested.

"In the new Department of General Services," the report said, "there are 22 exempt positions, made exempt merely by having appointments made nominally, or actually, by the governor."

In the judicial areas of the constitution, the report suggests revision to require judges of the superior and municipal courts to resign before they could seek any elective or appointive office other than their judgeships.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL Revision Commission was authorized by vote of the people in 1962, when Proposition 7 of that year was adopted. Previously, the only method in which the constitution could be revised in toto was through a constitutional convention. Although one effort was made along this line, nothing was ever submitted.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Why I Voted Yes' On Proposition 14

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Very rarely do I find a minor difference with you. However, your Friday, Nov. 6, elditorial "Passage Of Proposition 14 Takes State Back Century," poses a major one. The reason, I'm sure, comes from the lead sentence in one of the last articles by your late great "Chip" Day: "It all depends on how you look at it."

I do not look upon Proposition 14 as a racial issue. This has been absolved by the Federal Congressional Civil Rights Act. A measure which was long overdue, overqualified or not. One which I hope will tend to dissuade edicts from our Federal Supreme Court "Politbureau."

I feel the two thirds majority vote for Proposition 14 contrary to the sentiment of many local boards, agencies, and campaign groups is the voice of true Americans; whether they be black, brown, red, yellow, or white.

That is why I voted YES. I, too, intend to remain a free man.

Goldwater Deserted By GOP 'Bad Boys'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I wish to compliment the Independent-Journal on the complete coverage of the Nov. 3 election. My appreciation to Mr. Gnoss (county clerk) for holding the classes for election inspectors. A suggestion I made to him after the primary election in June. From all reports the polls worked more efficiently, and much knowledge was gained.

As long as the summing up of the recent election is still going on, . . . it is perhaps in order for me as a voter to express my views.

We dislike it when children become negative, when they can't have their own way. But when men in public office act like bad little boys, it is a bad reflection on the Republican Party. They are defectors, not loyal members, and who wants them? These bad little boys let Mr. Goldwater down across the nation. . . .

Mr. Goldwater is a Christian, a family man, and no skeletons in the closet. . . . He was deserted by his fellow Republicans.

The churches have been infiltrated, the schools have been infiltrated, two of the most important outlets in our lives. If the churches would teach the word of God and leave the marching and campaigning to the laity, they would contribute more to the betterment of our nation spiritually, and morally, which we need so badly.

If the vote of the people was accepted according to the ballot, why was only Prop. 14 and 15 not accepted? The people voted on the same ballot.

In many letters to the editor in the past, I have always recommended:

Look at the sponsors of any program, therein lies your answer. It is very revealing. The same names show every time. They represent subversive thinking in my opinion. I saw the names again appear in this campaign.

One needs only to look into their individual lives. When the outside deserts you as long as your own thinks you are O.K. you have it made. Not so with our Republican candidate for President. Of course it would be folly to say THEY defeated the candidate. The misrepresentations from the opposition helped somewhat.

Alumna Defends Terra Linda High

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I was very disappointed at the article on Drake High School and the model United Nations printed in your paper (see enclosed clipping). As a participant in the model U.N. at U.C., Berkeley in 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964, I feel I can speak with some authority about who won what and when. It is a well known fact that Terra Linda High School won the highest award possible in 1962 when we represented the USSR (I was on the delegation) and again in 1963 with the Icelandic delegation — contrary to the statement in the Drake press release.

In 1964 Drake did place two delegations in the top ten to Terra Linda's one (these were ranked alphabetically), but in the opinion of a considerable number of delegations as indicated by a poll taken by the University, India (which was not ranked in the top ten officially) placed much higher than either of Drake's delegations. India was represented by Terra Linda.

Also, I think you will find that all experienced delegations would agree that representing a major power is the hardest job because the policies are so well-publicized if little understood. However, the United States is rated as the hardest of all. I think these are things that Drake should also keep in mind: You have good delegations, but stop stepping on toes (outside the conference, that is)!

I would, therefore, appreciate a retraction.

School Unification Reporting Helpful

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your reporting on the current efforts to unify the schools District is sincerely appreciated. One of the articles prompted me to attend the hearing at Redwood High School.

The meeting opened with a request for reasons why the County Committee on School Organization selected the three-way unification plan. Most of the discussion that followed was on why we should unify our schools rather than why we should unify in this particular way. But during the course of the four hours I stayed, it became clear that a very vocal pressure group from a single geographic area is the major supporter of this plan.

The citizens of Marin should be grateful to the League of Women Voters who have studied school unification in depth and presented at the hearing many reasons why the three-way unification plan is not in the best interest of education in Marin County.

BENNETT CERF

IN THE DEAR OLD days when the Dodgers belonged to Brooklyn, Ebbets Field fans waxed ecstatic at the mere name of Dazzy Vance, as great a pitcher as ever strode to the mound. One day a couple of his Georgia cousins came to New York for their first visit to a big city and Dazzy invited them to see him pitch against the enemy—the Giants. "Watch me strike those bums out," he ordered. "Then you'll see why they just raised my pay to $25,000 a year!"

Unfortunately, this was not one of Dazzy Vance's better days. The first six batters to face him, in fact, lined out hits, and Dazzy was yanked without having retired a single man. His Georgia cousins were waiting for him at their hotel after the game. "Dazzy," they assured him, "you got the easiest way to make $25,000 we ever saw!"

A HILLBILLY, drafted for the army, got his first look at a grapefruit the evening he reported. "That's some orange," he exclaimed admiringly. "It wouldn't take very many of THEM to make a dozen!"

Europeans Heartily Approve Of Nation's Mandate To President

PARIS — If the people of Western Europe could have voted, they would have elected Lyndon Johnson as resoundingly as did the American people.

EVERY INDEX of opinion—the big play given the outcome, the editorials in the European press, the more than usually cordial statements by government spokesmen—show that the people of the NATO countries think the U.S. voters did just right.

It is evident that our European allies breathe more easily and feel more secure now that the verdict is so decisive.

The political leaders, in and out of government, frankly admit they still do not know and cannot yet measure Lyndon Johnson, man or president, nor are they sure how he is going to be to deal with.

But they know they would rather be dealing with him than any other living American they can think of.

Envy — at least within the governments — that the most influential single leader of the free world has such a secure political base.

Awareness that, while President Johnson will not recklessly rock the NATO boat, he will take a stronger grip on the tiller.

In a word, there is at once relief and an uneasy wonder about what kind of a leader this Lyndon Johnson will be, now that he is president, not by accident, but by such a massive mandate.

THERE IS LITTLE mystery why the Europeans felt such a tremendous stake in the U.S. election.

They feared that Senator Goldwater would be far more likely to get the U.S. — and Europe — into war.

They feared that Goldwater, however much he talked about uniting NATO, was committed to divisive policies and an ultimatum complex which would have disunited NATO more than it is.

THEY FEARED that the Goldwater contention that all Communist nations should be treated alike — whether Red China or Russia or the Eastern European satellites—would kill all efforts to resolve the issues of the cold war by negotiation and internal change in the Communist bloc.

It was reflected in Die Welt of Hamburg, which declared that "a Goldwater victory would have shaken the West's foundations so that all efforts at a stronger Western alliance would have become pointless."

It would be shortsighted for Americans to construe European concern over whom we elect president as interference in our domestic affairs.

THIS CONCERN does not spring from any spirit of interference but from awareness that their own security depends as much on how America conducts itself as on their own governments. Opinion on this side of the Atlantic is that the American people have installed an unusually stable and strong government.

None of this means that President Johnson will find everybody in Europe agreeing with him. But he has produced a reservoir of respect and good will which can operate to mutual advantage.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Vietnam Troubles Laid To McNamara

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara personally vetoed the assignment of Marines or Army special forces to guard the Bien Hoa airfield, where a surprise Viet Cong artillery and mortar attack inflicted heavy personnel and bomber losses.

LACK OF ADEQUATE protection was directly responsible for the success of the Communists' costly hit-and-run blitz.

After a first-hand inspection several months ago, Gen. William Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Vietnam, strongly recommended that a large contingent of Marines or Army special forces be sent there expressly to safeguard eight major air bases.

This urgent request was conveyed to McNamara through Ambassador Maxwell Taylor.

The proposal was turned down by the Pentagon chief on the ground it was contrary to basic policy determining the dispatch of U.S. combat troops to South Vietnam.

UNDER THIS SO-CALLED "rules of engagement" policy, formulated by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Asst. Secretary William Bundy, and his brother, McGeorge Bundy, special White House foreign affairs adviser, the employment of U.S. combat forces in South Vietnam is limited to acting as advisers and trainers. They are barred from any other role.

This underlying procedure has the full approval of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Critical military authorities, particularly in the Air Force, attribute McNamara's rejection of Westmoreland's plan to another reason—determination to maintain tight control over U.S. combat forces abroad to avert incidents that might escalate into major clashes.

The defense secretary has long been under fire on the charge of iron-handed rule of the armed services. This latest backstage complaint is part of this criticism against him.

PERSONNEL AND PLANE losses in the surprise Bien Hoa attack were much greater than officially admitted.

Under the Rusk-McNamara "rules of engagement" policy, the eight major air bases in South Vietnam are guarded by Air Force troops armed with only carbines and pearl-handled pistols. They have no infantry training, and are not equipped with heavy weapons, tanks or other arms to meet an artillery or large-scale attack such as the Viet Cong's hit-and-run blitz.

THESE FORCES, numbering several thousand in South Vietnam, are under orders not to fire unless fired on. This bars them from conducting probing patrols to ward off surprise attacks.

General Westmoreland is authoritatively understood to have stressed these dangerous shortcomings in urging the need for Marines or Army special forces to guard the eight key South Vietnam air bases.

Democrats Not A Bit Critical Of Barry's, Miller's Campaign

WASHINGTON — There has been a great deal of soul-searching and name-calling amongst Republicans since last Tuesday's presidential election. Dean Burch, of the Republican National Committee, Barry Goldwater and Bill Miller all have come under heavy attack for the campaign they waged and moderate Republicans have demanded their ouster.

STRANGELY ENOUGH, the only people who seem to be defending the Goldwater campaign are the Democrats. We were having lunch at the National Democratic Club the other day and one of the leaders of the Democratic Party told us, "I think Dean Burch has been unfairly attacked for the campaign he waged. We believe he did a great job and we hope he stays in for another four years."

"But didn't he make a lot of mistakes?"

"None that we can think of. We were very satisfied with everything he did. Of course, we were sorry to lose those five states in the South, but we can't hold Burch responsible for that."

"What about Barry Goldwater?"

"Here again, we feel people are being too critical. Mr. Goldwater made a great contribution to the Democratic Party and I know he'll be remembered for it for many years to come."

"Is that true of Bill Miller, too?"

"IT CERTAINLY IS. Bill Miller is one of our favorites, and since the election is over, I haven't heard one Democrat utter a harsh word against him."

"Then you think Governor Rockefeller was wrong in criticizing the campaign the two Republican candidates waged?"

"I can't speak for Rockefeller. All I can say is that, as far as the Democrats are concerned, the Republicans couldn't have picked two better men than Goldwater and Miller."

"You don't think they made political mistakes?"

"Everyone makes mistakes during a campaign. We would have liked to have seen Goldwater hit the nuclear war issue harder, and perhaps attack the Social Security system with more vigor, but you can't have everything. He did the best he could with what he had and we wouldn't have changed one word of any of his speeches."

"You won't hear anyone in this club knocking them. As a matter of fact, we hope they run again in 1968 and we're going to do everything we can to see the Republicans don't make any changes. Every Democratic club in the country has sent a telegram supporting Dean Burch and the entire Barry Goldwater team. You can say what you want, the Democrats are not the kind to desert a loser."

"Have you told Mr. Goldwater about it?"

"We've tried to, but he won't answer his phone. I guess he was afraid we were going to be critical of him. But if he knew how much we thought of him, particularly with all the carping going on in his own party, I think he would have been pleased. In our Democratic hearts, we know he will always be right."

New Granada School Produces Amusing Reactions Among Pupils

It's a team teaching school where youngsters are divided in groups according to their abilities in a particular subject. Various groupings are possible in the huge one-room building with wings radiating like blunt points of a star.

The building is shiny new, has carpeting to cut sound bounce from the various groups working separately in one room. Kids for days had been sneaking up to the doors of the school to peer curiously inside.

Last week they finally entered this new and different building. What did they have to say as they dashed in with their paper bags full of books, crayons and pencils?

"WHERE'S THE bathroom?" asked one kid as he wandered around.

Looking across the huge room at a group of children surrounding another teacher, a disappointed student said:

"IS THERE GOING to be a fence around there?" asked one girl, looking at the vast expanse of mud which is the usual leftover of any construction work. She was told "yes" and sighed as visions of gooey fun evaporated.

A boy in another corner of the room tried to lift a chair with one hand. Since they are of relatively light plastic, he succeeded, to his delight.

A girl pointed to a movable low stage and said, "What's that?" A teacher explained.

"C'mon, race you to the bus," said the other, and they zoomed down the school walkway.

IT SEEMED LIKE a fairly healthy attitude, because if the adults are proud of the aesthetics, new teaching ideas, a new way of building, tests, experiments, praise from school consultants and other districts, the kids know a school is a school.

Too Much Caution Endangers A Slam At Bridge Table

South was clever enough to look very carefully at his partner as the rubber began. This made it unnecessary for him to look up at North after the play of today's hand.

Opening lead — ♣ 10

South ruffed the opening club lead, cautiously drew three rounds of trumps (a fellow can't be too careful these days, you know) and led out two top hearts.

STRICKEN FACE

When West discarded, declarer turned a stricken face to East. A pleased smile from that direction confirmed the bad news.

South avoided looking up as he showed his hand. "Down one," he conceded. "Man is the only animal that laughs," North remarked grimly. "He is the only animal that has a bridge partner."

Of course, you've seen why South was afraid to look his partner in the eye and why North made grim remarks. South played the hand so carefully that he lost his slam.

TOO MANY TRUMPS

After South ruffed the opening lead it was all right to draw two rounds of trumps with the ace and queen. The third round of trumps, however, was too much of a good thing.

South should leave the king of spades in dummy and begin the hearts with the ace from his hand and a low heart through West, the opponent who still has a trump.

If West ruffs, dummy plays the low heart. Declarer can later take the king of hearts and ruff a heart. His last heart will then be good.

SECOND HEART

If West discards on the second heart, declarer takes dummy's king and gives a heart to East. South can then ruff a fourth round of hearts, return to his hand, and finally draw West's last trump.

It is quite safe to leave a trump out if both opponents follow to two rounds of hearts; declarer can then draw a third trump and give up one heart.

It is imperative to leave one trump in dummy if the hearts break badly; only a ruff can then save you from losing two heart tricks.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one diamond.

You should not be tempted to pass the double for penalties because your clubs are not nearly strong enough. You can afford to pass a takeout double only if your trumps are strong enough to draw declarer's trumps comfortably.

FIRST SALE—An historic moment in the fight against tuberculosis was recorded Dec. 7, 1907 in the lobby of the Wilmington, Del., post office, when Emily Bissell, who thought up the idea of Christmas seals, bought the first one for a penny. The sale, in a dozen states, was supposed to raise $300. Instead it raised $3,000.

Colorful Christmas Seals Due Soon In Marin's Mail

"Stamps, stamps, stamps, by millions marching.

Cheer up, sufferers, help will come!

For behind this emblem dear

With this, "the song of the Red Cross Christmas stamp," the Philadelphia North American led off a story in its Dec. 10, 1908 issue.

It was the second year in which Americans could buy stamps at Christmastime in an effort to wipe out the "White Plague" of tuberculosis.

Sale of the stamps, later called Christmas Seals, has since become an American custom which will be repeated in a few days in Marin as elsewhere.

The Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. will start mailing out the seals tomorrow, and they are expected to arrive in most homes by next week.

It will be the 58th distribution of the stamps in the nation and the 34th time they have been sent out in Marin County.

Originally sold for a penny apiece in a dozen eastern states, the stamps were the brainchild of Emily Bissell, who designed them and financed their printing, then sold the idea to the Red Cross and the newspapers.

Largely due to the backing of the Philadelphia paper, the first year's sale raised 10 times the hoped-for $300, and helped to keep a struggling TB hospital from closing its doors. The Red Cross printed its name on the stamps, starting with the 1908 issue, and continued sponsoring the sale until 1920.

Then the National Tuberculosis Assn., formed in 1904, took over the project. Under its sponsorship, the seals were not sold but were sent to all households with an appeal for voluntary donations.

The nationwide sale now raises more than 27 million dollars annually, of which more than 95 per cent is retained by local and state associations.

The festive seals are in contrast to serious information about tuberculosis contained in letters which will be sent to Marinites along with them.

He and other association officials contend that tools now exist to eradicate the dreaded disease, but Americans have failed to make use of these tools.

COLORFUL DESIGN—Marinites soon will get their copies of the 1964 Christmas Seals, designed by scientific illustrator Gaetano di Palma. Originally sold, the seals now are sent out with an admonition to use them whether householders can afford to send a donation or not. Their sponsors know that every stamp placed on a Christmas card or letter helps spread the message of the fight against TB.

In Tonkin Action

Seaman Peter A. Metz of San Anselmo and others in the crew of the destroyer Morton have received Armed Forces Expeditionary Medals for participation in the Tonkin Gulf action Sept. 18. Metz is a son of Mrs. Connie A. Metz of 27 Alderney Road, San Anselmo.

Handled Burdell Sale

Mrs. Lois Verzuh of Top Properties, San Rafael and Novato realty firm, and Robert Coman, San Rafael realty salesman, handled the sale of the 760-acre Burdell Ranch north of Novato to a group of about 50 Marin and San Francisco investors. Coman's name was omitted in Monday's story on the land sale in the Independent-Journal.

America's fastest animal is the pronghorn, an antelope which, in bursts of speed, can attain about 50 miles an hour.

Zoning Is On Ross Agenda

The Ross Town Council will consider proposed changes in the town's subdivision and zoning ordinance at its meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the town hall.

The council will hold a preliminary hearing on a tentative map for a six-lot subdivision on Upper Road in Ross Highlands.

Councilmen will also hear a subdivision request by Robert Dickson and Alexander McAndrew, and a request for permission to build a guest house on a slope of more than 30 per cent by Kenneth Bechtel.

Novato Sanitary Board Boosts Employees Pay

The plan was recommended by the state personnel service board, said Charles Joseph, district engineer-manager.

The district will start a self-monitoring program within a month, Joseph reported. This is a requirement by the regional water pollution control board, he said. It will consist of taking samples and making periodic analysis of the discharge from the two treatment plants.

The board approved annexing 10 lots on Peach Street to the district. It also approved sewer plans for Gnoss Estates unit two of 51 lots off Olive Avenue and Vineyard Estates of 17 lots on Vineyard Road between Eucalyptus and Sutro avenues.

Hamilton Surplus Bid Sale Announced
